Marin Couple's Son Dies In Viet Copter Crash

The bodies of 12 Americans killed in Viet Nam crashes of two U.S. Marine Corps helicopters — including the son of a Mill Valley couple—were recovered today, the Associated Press reported from Saigon.

One of the 12 was WO Charles Frank Whitehead Jr., 38, an 18-year Marine Corps veteran who fought through World War II and Korea and whose parents live at 77 Cornelia Avenue, Mill Valley.

Whitehead, believed to have been pilot of one of the copters, received the Distinguished Flying Cross and Purple Heart for his service and wounds in Korea, where he flew jet planes. Subsequently as a jet instructor at Santa Ana, he instructed Col. John H. Glenn Jr., the first American astronaut to orbit the earth. Later, as a helicopter flier, he piloted President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

He had only 18 months remaining before he would be eligible to retire from the Marine Corps. The Viet Nam assignment was to be his last overseas. He arrived there only Oct. 1.

Three other Marine officers, five enlisted men, a Navy doctor and two Navy hospital corpsmen were aboard the two H-34 copters that went down in the Vietnamese jungles. All 12 bodies were recovered and were being flown back to the copter base at the coastal city of Da Nang, the Associated Press reported. It was the greatest loss of American lives in one operation since the U.S. started its military buildup in South Viet Nam in late 1961.

To add to the toll, a rescue helicopter sent in to recover the bodies was hit by guerrilla gunfire, its American pilot wounded by shattered plexiglass and a Vietnamese soldier in the copter killed. Two search planes were also fired upon and hit, the Associated Press reported.

A military spokesman in Saigon said the cause of the two crashes was under investigation by a team flown into the area today. One unconfirmed report said the helicopters collided in the air. They were on a search mission for a Vietnamese Air Force plane that crashed in a dive-bombing attack earlier Tuesday, 50 miles southwest of Da Nang.

An American officer and a Vietnamese officer aboard the dive bomber were listed officially as missing.

The area has been heavily defended by the Viet Cong, who have turned withering ground fire on planes. Searchers who found the crashed copters said they saw no bullet holes in the first wreckage they reached, but would not rule out the possibility the crafts were shot down, AP reported. They said both helicopters were badly wrecked.

Search planes went out at down yesterday and found the wreckage.

Before the double crash, 60 U.S. servicemen had been killed by guerrillas in South Viet Nam and 53 died of other causes.

Whitehead had seen service in many "hot spots" during his Marine Corps service.

Born in Oakland, he grew up in Santa Rosa, attending high school and junior college there before joining the Marine Corps in World War II. He served through that war as an enlisted man, spending much of it in the South Pacific. He saw service in Rabaul, the Philippines, China and Japan.

After the war, he entered pilot training and earned his wings. He was sent to Korea as a first lieutenant piloting jet

4,000 ARE FEARED DEAD AS ITALIAN LAKE SPILLS

THIS WAS A VILLAGE—This view shows the remains of the Italian village of Pirago today after flood waters rolled over it from the Vaiont Dam in nearby mountains. All the estimated 200 inhabitants were killed. (AP Wirephoto)

Tragedy Labeled 'Biblical Disaster'

LONGARONE, Italy (UPI)—More than 4,000 persons were feared today to have died under a crushing wall of water that swept through an Alpine valley with the devastation of a "biblical disaster."

The tragedy caught half a dozen sleeping villages without warning. Thousands of tons of rock and dirt from an overhanging mountain crashed into a reservoir, spilling millions of gallons of water over a gigantic dam into the towns below. Some villages were nearly obliterated, with hardly a trace left to show that they had existed.

The effect of the landslide was like that of a stone dropped into a teacup as the water gushed over the Vajont Dam, highest arch dam in the world, and roared through the valley in a wall 300 feet high.

AT POMPEII?

"This is really like a Biblical disaster. Anyone who visits Longarone has the sensation of being at Pompeii before the evacuations were begun. It is a human tragedy that leaves one frightened and dismayed."

The dam itself held firm under the rush of water except for being crumbled along its lip on one side, but the cascade of water through the valley first caused reports that the barrier had collapsed, loosening the flood.

Reports from survivors and rescuers described a pitiful scene in the valley near Cortina, site of the last winter Olympics.

WOMAN DIGS

One woman had been visiting a daughter on the mountainside found only stones and gravel where her home had been. Her husband, a son, her daughter-in-law and three grandchildren were gone.

A reporter found her digging into the gravel with a spoon, and when a relative tried to lead her away she refused to quit scratching at the and dug into the spot where her home had been, but they found nothing.

An estimated 250,000 tons of rock and dirt fell into the lake behind the dam from an overhanging mountain.

Some of the towns in the path of the wall of water were wiped out so completely there

Nobel Peace Prize Goes To Pauling

OSLO, Norway (AP)—A Nobel Peace Prize was awarded today to scientist Linus Carl Pauling, a U.S. foe of nuclear tests who long has been a center of controversy in his own land.

It is the second Nobel Prize for the professor of chemistry at the California Institute of Technology. In 1954 he won the chemistry award for his research into the forces that hold molecules together.

The Norwegian Nobel Committee announced Pauling will be handed the prize for 1962. No award had been announced for that year.

The 1963 peace prize will go to the International Red Cross Committee and the League of Red Cross Societies.

Pauling's prize amounts to $49,465. The two Red Cross groups will share a prize of $50,961.

On the day of the award the committee does not state its reasons for making it. It will be outlined Dec. 10 when the prize is handed over in a ceremony.

Only one other individual has won more than one Nobel prize. Mrs. Marie Curie received the chemistry prize in 1911 and had shared a physics prize with two others in 1903.

Pauling, an outspoken man, was an early campaigner against nuclear tests, insisting they posed a serious threat to the health of mankind now and in future generations.

The State Department refused to issue him a passport in 1952 on the grounds he was suspected of being a Communist. Pauling denied this under oath, but insisted on the right to speak his mind and choose his friends.

This independence of mind got him into trouble with his neighbors in World War II. He employed a youth of Japanese descent as a gardener at his home in Pasadena. His home was plastered with "Jap lover" signs.

He was born in Portland, Ore., 62 years ago and was graduated from Oregon State College in 1922. Three years later he received his doctorate at the California Institute of Technology.

Ross Hospital Plans $350,000 Expansion

A $350,000 expansion program at Ross Hospital, to add 40 beds to the existing 130, was approved last night by stockholders.

Twenty of the beds will be used for tuberculosis patients and for a chronic chest disease center. The other 20 will be used for expansion of the medical, surgical and rehabilitation services, announced Dr. John C. Siemen,s hospital administrator.

The facilities will be housed in two bulidings, built on two terraces, between the main hospital building and the existing tuberculosis terrace. Architect is Jack Hermann of Kentfield.

Siemens said the expansion was needed because of the increase of tuberculosis patients and persons with non-infectious chest diseases. "The treatment of these persons can best be handled in a chest disease center," he said.

The 20 beds for persons recovering from acute illnesses are needed "to relieve pressure on other parts of the hospital," according to Siemens.

Siemens said about half of the 80 stockholders owning the hospital approved the plan last night at a dinner meeting.

Construction of the building will start in the spring, with completion scheduled for eight months later.

The plan will be submitted to the Marin County Planning Commission in about a month, Siemens said.

State Sen. Murdy Plans Retirement

SANTA ANA (UPI)—State Sen. John Murdy (R.-Orange County) yesterday announced his retirement from public life, effective at the end of his current term in 1964.

Murdy has been in the Senate since 1952.

Heroin Intercepted

LAREDO, Tex. (UPI)—Customs officials today intercepted a smuggled shipment of almost pure heroin valued at more than 33 million dollars on the retail underworld market. A Montreal, Canada, couple was arrested at the international bridge into Mexico.

Macmillan Planning To Step Down

BLACKPOOL, England (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan stepped down today as leader of the ruling Conservative Party and said he would quit as premier before the general elections to be held by next October. (See also story page 2.)

He did not resign as prime minister in the announcement made today but he said he had informed Queen Elizabeth of his intention to step down later.

In a letter issued from his bed in a London hospital where he underwent a successful prostate gland operation this morning, Macmillan urged the Conservative Party to choose a new leader.

Macmillan's decision was contained in a letter to foreign secretary Lord Home.

It was read to the 4,200 delegates to the annual Conservative Party meeting. They were stunned by the announcement.

Macmillan's letter said that even if the operation proved successful, "it is clear that I will need a considerable period of convalescence."

Youth Fells Widow, 57, Takes $80

A 57-year-old San Rafael widow, who was returning home from St. Raphael's Church, was knocked down and robbed by a youth Tuesday night within two blocks of the San Rafael police station.

Mrs. Reba Van Allen Kelly, who lives and works as a helper at the Fifth Avenue Rest Home, 519 Fifth Avenue, was walking home in the 800 block on Fifth Avenue after attending church services when she was attacked.

She told police that she paused at Fifth Avenue and Lootens Place and saw the youth step out of the alcove of an apartment and disappear behind a tree near 843 Fifth Avenue.

Mrs. Kelly continued east on Fifth Avenue. As she passed the tree, she noticed the youth standing behind it.

About 15 feet further, the youth grabbed her around the neck from behind, with his hand over her mouth. He knocked her to the sidewalk, where her face came within inches of hitting some broken glass.

The youth searched her purse and took out $80. While holding her on the ground he searched her for more money, but found none. He then fled west on Fifth Avenue, up Nye Street, and disappeared.

P-TA Unit Endorses Corona

San Rafael Schools Supt. Bert C. Corona today received strong endorsement from the executive board of the San Rafael High School Parent-Teacher Assn. on his proposed book review committee.

Belle H. Aaron, member of the San Rafael Board of Education, took sharp issue with the proposed committee Tuesday, saying it was a threat to the academic freedom of teachers.

Mrs. William Beare, president of the P-TA executive committee, said a telephone poll of members yesterday resulted in a 31-3 endorsement of Corona's proposal.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Seventh Dies From Food Poisoning

KNOXVILLE (UPI) — Doctors sought, through the use of a rare antitoxin, today to prevent a rising death toll from a suspected outbreak of botulism.

A seventh person has died from food poisoning, believed contracted through packaged smoked whitefish.

Nine of 10 patients were improved enough to be listed in satisfactory or fair condition.

But doctors at Vanderbilt Hospital in Nashville said George Breault, 54, was "showing increasing difficulties with his breathing." They said he probably would be placed in a tank-type respirator.

Appeal Made For Married Deacons

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Missionary bishops from Africa, Asia and Latin America today appealed strongly to the Ecumenical Council for approval of a controversial proposal to ordain married deacons in areas where there is an acute shortage of priests.

"If you don't need deacons in your diocese, we do in ours," Negro Archbishop Bernard Yago of Abidjan, West Africa, told the council fathers.

The council also heard similar pleas from restoration of the ancient New Testament order of deacons from Archbishop Jose Maurer of Bolivia, who spoke in the name of all the bishops of Bolivia and 20 other Latin American bishops.

Macmillan's Operation Successful

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan today underwent a successful operation for the removal of his prostate gland.

A hospital bulletin said there were no complications after the hour-long operation and that his condition was excellent.

Macmillan, 69, entered King Edward VII Military Hospital Tuesday night after experiencing severe pjain during a Cabinet meeting.

Word of the successful surgery was flashed to Blackpool, where Macmillan's Conservative party is holding its annual conference and discussing the makeup of leadership to lead it into next year's general election.

Average Smoker

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Californians continue to smoke cigarettes at the rate of 146 packs a year for every man, woman and child in the state, tax figures showed today.

The State Board of Equalization said the average has held for three years, and is about 11 packs higher than the national average.

Smoking And Cancer

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The president of the American Cancer Society says studies made of heavy smokers show "without dispute" that smoking is a prime cause of lung cancer.

Dr. I. S. Ravdin of Philadelphia said yesterday he things cancer is probably caused by a virus that finds it easy to attack when the lungs have been weakened by smoking or smog.

Ravdin made his statements during the 17th annual meeting of the California division of the American Cancer Society.

"WHERE SERVICE IS A MATTER OF PRIDE"

Makes It Clear Cuba Out Of Deal

WASHINGTON (AP)—President John F. Kennedy has given the green light for the private sale of millions of bushels of American wheat to the Soviet Union and other Communist bloc countries.

He made it clear that the grain was for use only in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe—not in Cuba.

His decision, which in so many words he said was just good business for the United States, drew both sparks and cheers.

'ARMING ENEMY'

The reception ranged from Democratic Sen. Strom Thurmond's denunciation that it amounted to "arming our enemy," to Vermont Republican Sen. George Aiken's view that "the deal should prove beneficial to both the United States and the people of the purchasing nations."

In announcing his decision at his press conference last night after weighing both the political and economic problems involved, the president noted that more such transactions may be in the works.

PRIVATE DEALERS

The Soviet bloc countries, he said, "may also wish to purchase from us surplus feed grains and other agriculture commodities," and he added: National Security Council, and informing the appropriate leaders of the Congress, I have concluded that such sales by private dealers for American dollars or gold, either cash or delivery or normal commercial terms, should not be prohibited by the government."

Kennedy did not specify how many bushels and how many dollars would be involved in wheat sale.

Kennedy did site a figure as an example to show how the United States could benefit from the transaction. He said:

"The sale of four million metric tons of wheat, for example, for an estimated 250 million dollars, and additional sums from the use of American shipping, will benefit our balance of payments and gold reserves by that amount and substantially strengthen the economic outlook for those employed in producing, transporting, handling and loading farm products."

FARM PROBLEMS

However, Hubert H. Humphrey, assistant Senate Democratic leader, who was among congressional leaders briefed by Kennedy before his announcement, said the authorization cleared the way for wheat sales of 350 to 400 million dollars.

Humphrey said some four million tons of grain would go to the Soviet Union, and one million tons to Bulgaria, Hungary, Poland and Czechoslovakia. Some other legislators said the sales are expected to total seven million tons.

Plagued by farm problems for years, the Soviet Union and some of its Eastern European satellites were forced to turn to the capitalist West for more grain this year when a drought cut deeply into harvests. The Soviet Union has already closed deals with Canada and Australia.

Kennedy Asserts CIA Not Bucking Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy says speculation that the Central Intelligence Agency has bucked administration policy in South Viet Nam is "wholly untrue" and does the CIA an injustice.

At his first news conference in nearly five weeks, Kennedy also confirmed yesterday that John Richardson has been transferred from his old post of chief of the CIA mission in South Viet Nam. He called Richardson "a very dedicated public servant" and he gave no reason for the transfer, nor said where Richardson would serve.

The early-evening session with 258 reporters also produced:

A statement that Kennedy thinks Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona can capture the 1964 Republican presidential nomination — if he passes a preconvention test of "his endurance and his perseverance and his agility."

A restatement of official opposition to military coups in Latin America, coupled with rejection of the idea of using American military might to thwart them. Short of the use of force, Kennedy said, the United States was powerless to prevent recent coups in Honduras and the Dominican Republic.

A disclosure by Kennedy that the Soviet Union has made no response to his Sept. 20 proposal that this country and the Soviets mount a joint expedition to put a man on the moon by 1970. Kennedy said the subject might come up at a late-afternoon conference with Andrei A. Gromyko.

An assertion that it would be "a great mistake" to reduce the 40-hour work week.

A statement that the administration is watchfully concerned about recent price increases in steel, aluminum, heavy chemicals and electrical equipment.

Kennedy was asked to discuss reports that the CIA played an independent role in South Viet Nam and clashed with Pentagon and State Department policies. He said this was "wholly untrue" and unfair.

The president said he studied the record of the past nine months and found nothing to indicate that CIA "has done anything but support policy."

At another point, however, Kennedy concede officials have differed about policy in South Viet Nam. But now, he said, "I know of no disagreement on what our basic policies will be and what steps we will take to implement it."

Eight Drown As Tin Mine Dam Breaks

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (UPI)—Police and rescue workers picked their way today through a seven-square-mile area of this city devastated yesterday by a flash flood which killed at least eight persons.

Five of the dead were children, and all were Chinese who lived in the area hit by a chocolate-brown wall of water last night when a U. S. tin-mine reservoir's retaining wall burst after a week's pounding by monsoon rains.

Many are still missing in the disaster, which wiped out hundreds of homes and left between 6,000 and 8,000 persons homeless.

A full investigation of the disaster has been ordered. The chief inspector of mines, A. W. Burne, said he had ordered an inquiry to begin next week.

The mine, an open-pit tin operation, is owned by the Pacific Tin Consolidated Corp. of New York City.

U.S. Probing Legal Side Of Crime Account

Valachi Names Cities In Crime, Tells Of Murder

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mobster-informer Joseph Valachi's story told, Senate probers concentrated today on the legal side of the fence for a police account of the murderous Cosa Nostra crime syndicate.

In five days of testimony ending yesterday, Valachi has detailed for the Senate Investigation subcommittee the wheels of the New York-based mob hierarchy and contended its arm reaches to Detroit, Chicago and the Pacific Coast.

TO TAKE STAND

The subcommittee announced Detroit Police Commissioner George Edwards is taking the stand as an expert witness, to be followed in subsequent weeks by spokesmen from many cities who will describe what they know about the syndicate.

President John F. Kennedy has nominated Edwards to become a judge of the U. S. Court of Appeals. Edwards continues in his police post pending Senate action on the nomination.

GANG MURDER

Valachi capped his testimony with a witness-stand confession that he engineered the 1952 murder of a New York mobster, Eugene Gianinni, who had been spotted as an informer for the federal Narcotics Bureau. Valachi showed no sign of remorse as he told of assigning professional gunmen — his "sharpshooters" — to commit the murder.

"Senators, I am testifying without immunity from prosecution," the 60-year-old mobster said. He is a convicted New York racketeer, also served a life term for murder, and claims that now he, too, is under a Cosa Nostra sentence to be slain as an informer.

NAMES CITIES

Valachi said he had volunteered to handle the Gianini killing, and that it had the sanction of New York mobster Vito Genovese, whom he calls Cosa Nostra's dominant figure.

Valachi named these cities, in addition to New York and Detroit, in which he said Cosa Nostra maintains "families" or mobs, and the number of men in each of them.

Philadelphia, about 100; Boston, 18 to 20; Chicago, about 150; Cleveland, 40 to 50; Los Angeles, about 40; Tampa, about 10; Newark, about 100; Buffalo, 120 to 125; Utica, 40 to 100; New Orleans, "very few." He gave no figure for Detroit.

Goldwater, Rocky Trails Crossing

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — You would think it was an election year, the way Republicans poured into Eugene today for the party's Western Conference.

Oregon hosts expect at least 500 Republicans from 13 Western states for the three-day affair which has excited unusual early interest in the 1964 GOP race for president.

The magnet is the opportunity to get a look at both top-ranking potential contenders for the Republican nomination.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona will address separate functions Saturday.

They're not destined to meet unless they happen to run into each other coming and going at the Eugene airport.

Goldwater has appeared throughout the West in recent months, passively encouraging the hopes of supporters that he'll be a formal candidate before long.

Rockefeller, on the other hand, has not only shunned speaking invitations but has held back any go-ahead for political activity in his behalf, notably in California.

"Draft Goldwater" clubs already have opened a hospitality room in the headquarters hotel to solidify the Arizona senator's strong following in the Far West. There's no sign of organized effort for Rockefeller.

Long Beach Oil Probe Demanded

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Two state senators yesterday demanded a senate investigation of a contract proposed by the City of Long Beach for continued oil production on state lands the city holds in trust.

Senators Virgil O'Sullivan of Williams and Stanley Arnold of Susanville, both Democrats, asked that the senate fact finding committee on natural resources make the probe.

O'Sullivan headed a subcommittee earlier which suggested revisions of a proposed contract between the State Lands Commission and Long Beach for development of the rich East Wilmington oil field.

"The contract now being considered by the commission for the adjoining parcel is as potentially dangerous to the interests of the state as that originally offered by the city on the new field," O'Sullivan said.

The senators criticized pricing provisions of the proposal, which they said would deprive the state and the oil industry of income.

O'Sullivan said Monday he was investigating ways to end the city's trusteeship. He said the city had flouted state tideland oil policy.

Senate President pro tem Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno), told a news conference which he called as acting governor, that he goes along with "thorough study" of the Long Beach contracts, but "personally would like to see this show get on the road."

"The state can use the money," he said.

Burns said he thinks O'Sullivan's "watchdog" committee has all the authority it needs to make an investigation.

U. S. INFORMATION 'IN LOCAL HANDS'

State County Supervisors Told They Are Deeply Involved In Access Problem

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California county supervisors were told yesterday that local government is deeply involved in the problem of access to government information.

Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.) cited cases in which he said federal agencies "delivered the power of censorship into the hands of those officials who might be criticized" at the local level.

Moss, chairman of the House foreign operations and government information subcommittee, spoke to the opening session of the annual convention of County Supervisors Assn. of California.

He said in two cases, one in Denver and another in Philadelphia, the Federal Public Housing Administration had refused to disclose results of management surveys of local housing authorities.

In both cases, he said, the federal agency said it was up to the local authorities to make any results public. The federal agency claimed "executive privilege."

Moss praised Robert Weaver, present administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, for a recent decision that the constitution grants no "executive privilege" and the information becomes public as soon as the survey is completed and the results become official record.

"This decision of Robert Weaver's is an important step forward — a recognition that representative government is a working system with the Congress of the United States a full partner in its activities, and the local representatives in the states, counties, and cities fully responsible and as much to be trusted as the experts in Washington," he said.

S. Wesley Break, San Bernardino County supervisor and president of the association, told the supervisors the 1963 legislative session was for counties "our finest hour."

He said state-county partnership programs were bolstered by 10 million dollars a year by actions of the legislature, and counties got other help with pressing money problems.

He cited passage of legislation increasing the gasoline tax to build local streets and roads, authorizing local hotel-motel taxes and increasing aid to mental health clinics.

The association's general counsel, William R. MacDougall, agreed that the year was a good one, but said the principle of home rule was threatened by proposals for metropolitan "super-government" on a regional basis.

Debaters Argue Whether Red Speaker Necessary

Communist Albert J. Lima's speaking appearance on the College of Marin campus Tuesday prompted a sharp debate on radio KTIM today over whether he should have been allowed to speak.

Lima, Northern California chairman of the Communist Party, spoke to 600 students. He was questioned for over an hour afterwards.

Today, four men debated his appearance on the "Marin Sounding Board." Student Robert Scoville, president of the Mariner Discussion Committee which invited Lima, and Robert Essig, college political science instructor, defended the appearance of a Communist on campus, saying a college should provide "a market place of ideas."

Charles Michals and Edmund Ward, both members of the Marin Republican Council which protested the talk, said it gave the Communist dignity and increased his stature.

Michals said all Communists are dedicated to the overthrow of democracy and their presentations are hideously slanted. He said he has confidence in the ability of young people to discriminate between good and bad ideas; but that Communists are not trying to educate, they are trying to indoctrinate.

"I think the American ideals should be well entrenched before he (the student) is exposed to Communist doctrine," Michals said.

Scoville said he believed ideas should be allowed to compete freely so students may judge on their merits. He said there are controls at the college and the invitation of Lima and his use of Olney Hall had to have the permission of the board of trustees.

In response to a question from a listener, Scoville said he felt sure that no student who heard Lima was indoctrinated or converted to communism.

He said he was particularly impressed by Lima's "equivocation and rationalization" in trying to answer student questions.

Ward, an attorney, suggested Communists are eager to appear as normal people and "expose themselves as not bad guys."

Ward spoke at length about the law involved in permitting speakers in public buildings. He said any speaker is allowed provided he does not commit a crime. Advocating the overthrow of the government is a crime, he said. But there is a fine distinction between advocacy and discussion which makes it legal for a Communist to speak.

Essig advocated much freedom in the choice of college speakers to promote the "competition of ideas." He said the Mariner Discussion Group has invited Dr. Fred Schwartz as one of its speakers this year. Schwartz is a militant anti-Communist and has given lectures and conducted courses on fighting communism.

One listener telephoned to ask if a Communist should be hired to teach on the junior college level. Essig said it depended on the subject matter. A Communist could not be trusted to teach social studies, but might be able to teach the exact sciences fairly, he suggested.

Michals said he was definitely against Communist teachers in any subject and used Essig's own statement—"the teaching process does not stop in the classroom"—to support his argument.

The program, the 600th in the "Sounding Board" series, was moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer. It will be rebroadcast from tape recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Racial Conditions Will Be Described

Theodore Bikel, folk singer and actor, will tell about the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee and racial conditions in the South on a ferry boat trip from Tiburon to Angel Island Saturday.

Bikel has recently returned from the South, according to Virginia Radenzel, a member of the sponsoring Food for Freedom organization.

Gallinas Petitions 'Completed'

The Gallinas Village Community Services District has just about attained its goal of necessary signatures to annex to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District, secretary-manager Alys Durenberger reported today.

"I think we've got our 75 per cent," she said. "It's in the hands of the assessor now for checking, and I hope we'll know for sure by tonight's meeting."

The district board will meet at 8 p.m. at John MacPhail School.

Members will also discuss appointment to fill an existing vacancy on the board. Another vacancy may occur soon, because chairman Allan Gwynne plans to move to Concord.

Board member Herbert Belben wants to discuss the use of a lot at Adrian Way and Rosal Way for recreation purposes. The lot is owned by the community services district.

Gas Line Break Sends Pupils Out Of School

About 170 students at Novato High School got out of the last class period yesterday because of a broken gas line.

Principal Robert Wisgerhof said an excavating bulldozer of Fostmeier Construction Co., preparing a patio site adjacent to the homemaking and crafts wing, cut through a one-inch gas main.

"On the advice of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., we evacuated the classrooms before the final period and declared the area 'off limits'," he said.

Students who had classes in that wing were dismised from their last class of the day.

The main was repaired and classes were resumed this morning, according to Wisgerhof.

Blaze Wipes Out Paint Store In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A fire that was fed by hundreds of cans of paint roared out of control for more than an hour early today in a Landers Street paint store, damaging several adjoining businesses.

The Thompson Painting Co. was completely wiped out by the blaze, firemen said. The fire also did some damage to nearby businesses, and other stores and shops suffered from smoke or water damage, a spokesman said. No estimate was made on damages.

The first recorded bullfight took place in Crete about 3,000 B.C. and the bull fighter was a woman.

Cap Pistol? No, Police Weapon Was Real One

A Stinson Beach truck driver was arrested in Mill Valley last night after the "cap pistol" he was carrying turned out to be a loaded .32-caliber automatic.

Ronald Mahoney, 31, who lives on Highway 1, was charged with carrying a concealed weapon after he was stopped, and four spent shells and a box of unused ones were found in his small car.

Police stopped the car after the sheriff's office was told a man at Waldo Point had been pointing a gun into a car fitting the same description, and that a woman and small child had jumped out and run away.

Mahoney, when he was stopped by Mill Valley Police Officer Robert Dyche near 71 Throckmorton Avenue, said he had been in a "tussle" with a friend, and had only waved a cap pistol. Dyche searched the car but couldn't find the gun. Mahoney said he threw it out of the car.

At the police station, however, Mahoney said, "I may as well come clean," and pulled the automatic from his pants.

He said he had picked up a man, a woman and a girl as hitchhikers in Sausalito, that the man had threatened him with a pistol, and that the fight had started then. He said the .32-caliber automatic belonged to a woman friend.

Kenneth T. Iverson Jr., a reserve officer of the Sonoma police department, first reported seeing the man pointing the gun into the car. Soon afterward Sausalito police received several other calls from other witnesses as the incident held up traffic on the Bridgeway onramp to Highway 101.

The woman and child who ran from the car were not found.

Mahoney was released on $550 bail, to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow. Police said the gun turned out to have been stolen in Los Angeles in 1939.

was hardly a trace to show they had ever existed.

Officials estimated that 3,700 of the 4,700 inhabitants of Longarone were dead. They reported that 99 per cent of the population of Pirago and Fae, villages of about 200 inhabitants, were killed. The death toll in Castellavazzo, also with a population of about 200, was estimated at 50 per cent.

Massino Petrin, one of the men working at the dam, said a small landslide fell into the artificial lake two months ago, sending a small wave over the edge.

He added that tests made at the time showed that a large landslide like last night's could cause a major disaster.

Petrin said a number of large rocks fell into the lake yesterday afternoon.

"It was a warning, but nobody understood," he said. "We were even joking that sooner or later Longarone was going to have a bath. We never thought. . ."

Man Booked For Wife Beating— Can It Stick?

A 36-year-old Larkspur man was jailed last night on a charge of felony wife beating, but San Rafael police weren't sure if the charge would stick.

Police Officer Richard Douglas, said Mrs. Elizabeth Zacchine of 34 Murray Avenue informed at the hospital that her husband, Richard, had been jailed, expressed surprise and replied, "He has the right to hit me if he wants to."

Zacchine told police his wife failed to keep an appointment to meet him on her return from a dentist who had repaired three of her teeth—damaged the last time he hit her.

He found her at the bar in the Bermuda Palms Motel at 707 Francisco Boulevard. He said he struck her a backhand blow and left, Officer Douglas reported. Motel owner Irving B. Litchfield called police, who found Zacchine at the Country Club Bowl.

Zacchine posted $1,100 bail to appear in court tomorsow.

Neophyte Crew Member Is Back With Her Family

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A mother of three, who sailed to Tahiti with three female crewmen and a male captain, arrived in Los Angeles last night en route to rejoin her family.

Mrs. Berkson was one of four women who sailed the 45-foot ketch, Neophyte, under the captaincy of Lee Quinn. (Quinn originally sailed from Marin.) They completed their 3,000-mile journey from California to Tahiti last Friday. They set sail Aug. 27.

"When we arrived in Papeete, Tahiti," she said, "all the boats in the harbor gave us a tremendous salute."

She said the trip cost her $2,500.

Mrs. Kennedy Weathers Storm, Rests

LEFKAS, Greece (UPI)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy stopped on her cruise today at the private Island of Scorpios, owned by Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis, after weathering a storm at sea.

Onassis' luxury yacht Christina with Mrs. Kennedy on board dropped anchor between Scorpios Island, which is shaped like a crab, and the Island of Lefkas. The yacht, which had been scheduled to arrive yesterday, met a storm in the Ionian Sea.

From the Christina, Mrs. Kennedy could see 70 workers building a road on Scorpios, where Onassis is building a villa. He bought the island six months ago.

It has a circumference of only four miles, and is covered with eucalyptus, pine, orange and cypress trees.

TELL RED DANGER, MRS. NHU DECLARES

South Viet Nam First Lady Also Asserts Father Was Fired; He Says Daughter Wrong

STILL SMILING—Controversial Mrs. Ngo Diem Nhu, first lady of South Viet Nam, smiled yesterday as she left her New York hotel en route to a television station. With her is her daughter, Le Thuy, 17. (AP Wirephoto)

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu says that if she were President John F. Kennedy she would "inform the people" about the Communist danger "instead of being inclined to lull them into a false sense of security."

She made the statement in answering a question after her first speech of a 21-day tour of the United States.

The fiery sister-in-law of President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam spoke to more than 1,000 persons at an Overseas Press Club luncheon yesterday.

During a question period, she was asked what she would do if she were president of the United States to insure defeat of the Viet Cong Communist guerrillas in her country.

She replied:

"The first step would be then — inform the people instead of being inclined to lull them into a false sense of security."

In reply to another question, she said her father, Tran Van Chuong, was dismissed as South Vietnamese ambassador to the United States before he could resign.

Mrs. Nhu said the government at Saigon considered at a 2 a.m. meeting a "challenging" cable from her father, from whom she is estranged, and sent him a reply that his mission was finished.

Chuong has said his daughter's version "is certainly not true."

He said his cable protesting government policy against Buddhist opponents was sent Aug. 6, and he resigned Aug. 22 before he received a cable dismissing him. He added that his departure was called a resignation in the South Vietnamese newspapers of Aug. 23.

Chuong, who has called his daughter "power hungry" and had shunned her since she arrived Monday night, plans a speaking tour of his own in the wake of her coast-to-coast tour.

Wives, Mothers Suspected In Home Burglary

CAPITOLA (AP) — About 10 housewives and mothers are on the suspect list in the burglary investigation of a 50-year-old mansion that was stripped of its valuable antiques and furnishings after the owner died, police said today.

Police Chief Marty Bergthold said some women backed their cars up to the old house and picked out what they wanted their children to take from the house. There were 28 youths involved, he said, girls and boys between the ages of 8 and 15.

The home was owned by the late Jane West Tuttle, who died Aug. 9 at the age of 91.

Bergthold said no charges have been filed yet in the case.

CRACKS PLASTER, BUT FIXES LAMP

Lady Asks For One Of Those Nice Pilots To Break Sound Barrier

GLENDALE (AP)—"Would it be too much trouble," Mrs. Berenice Kirkland wrote the Air Force, "to have one of your pilots head back over Glendale soon and break the sound barrier?"

The boom would be a boon in her household, Mrs. Kirkland explained, because of the trouble she's been having with that pesky lamp in her son's room.

"A desk lamp in my son's room hadn't worked for months," she wrote, "despite all the do-it-yourself repairs we tried. Until, that is, that thundering sonic boom rocked the neighborhood last week.

"I walked past the room and found the light on — a phenomena I can credit solely to the blast." But later, she said, it quit working again.

The Air Force was most vehement and specific in denying the blame for the blast, which broke windows and cracked plaster all along the San Fernando Valley foothills. No Air Force planes were in the area, it said.

"An electrician will charge me $7.50 to fix the lamp," Mrs. Kirkland said, oblivious to the denials. "I thought your method would certainly be cheaper, and probably more effective."

Air Force public relations experts in Los Angeles, who got the letter yesterday, are now trying to think of an answer.

Another sonic boom rocked the Los Angeles basin yesterday about 5 p.m.

Mrs. Kirkland's lamp? She was unavailable for comment.

Tycoon Sued For Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The wife of electronics tycoon Robert H. Avnet charges cruelty and adultery in her suit for divorce, and wants $10,000 a month temporary alimony.

Mrs. Clare M. Avnet also asked for equal division of community property, which she says is worth 10 million dollars.

Robert H. Avnet, 44, head of Avnet Electronics Corp., was accused in the divorce suit of having an affair with a nurse. His wife claims he also had affairs with other women.

PUC Final Decision On Digit Dialing Due Within Six Weeks

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Public Utilities Commission probably will issue a final decision sometime next month on whether to permit all-number telephone dialing.

A commission spokesman yesterday predicted that a final order will be forthcoming in a month to six weeks. The commission last week issued a temporary restraining order preventing Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. from further conversion of its telephone numbers to all numerals.

The order, while only temporary, was a victory for the Anti-Digit Dialing League, a citizens group organized to battle the telephone company's plan for all-number calling.

At present the company has converted about two-thirds of its telephones in California to all-number calling. The commission said it issued its restraining order because PT&T was scheduled to begin the all-number calling in San Francisco this month.

Opponents have argued that elimination of letter prefixes in telephone numbers is "dehumanizing," unnecessary from a technical standpoint, and that it causes difficulty in memorizing numbers.

Pacific Telephone contends that under the letter prefix system, it will one day run out of possible combinations.

Social Welfare Member Resigns

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Dr. Jacobus tenBroek, Berkeley, resigned yesterday from the state social welfare board, which was stripped of its policy making powers by the 1963 legislature.

But Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who announced the resignation in Washington, D.C., said tenBroek would be asked "soon" to accept another state position.

TenBroek, who is blind, is a past chairman of the board and a professor of political science at the University of California at Berkeley.

Boy To Be Moved Out Of Retarded Class

Tentative decision was made by county school authorities yesterday afternoon to move an 11-year-old Marin City boy out of the special class for mentally retarded pupils where he has been for three years and into a regular class.

The matter achieved sudden prominence Monday night when Mrs. William J. Lawler of 65 Oak Ridge Road, San Rafael, appeared with her maid, Mrs. Wendell McReynolds of 59 Cole Drive, Marin City, to tell the Marin Board of Education that Mrs. McReynolds' son, Daryl was unjustly kept in the special class.

"Daryl was correctly placed at the time he was put in this class," said County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis today. "Any such placement must be certified by a psychologist. His mother gave written consent."

Tests, admitted by experts to be not as precise as desired and therefore given in "batteries" to limit the margin of error, indicated recently that Daryl had progressed to an intelligence quotient rating high enough to join a regular class.

Pupils regarded as "educable" but slow, put into the special class, rate between 50 and 70 in "I.Q."

Daryl was said today to be reluctant to leave the special class, membership in which has been suddenly advanced in prestige since the children recently learned that a sister of President John F. Kennedy received training in such a class.

"Membership actually is an elite," commented Hollis. "The number is limited and it's not easy to gain admission. Such training costs more than the average. Also if we were to put a child there who didn't belong, we could be in trouble for misuse of funds since the state pays $910 a year for each."

Far from being a repository for Negro children who are discriminated against, it was learned today, this class in Sausalito School District has a higher percentage of white pupils than the school as a whole.

During the Monday hearing a question by board member James A. Carroll caused doubt as to whether Daryl had been tested before admission. Hollis said that not only was he properly tested but the work was done by a psychologist lent by the county to the district.

"Definitely he was tested—we can't make such a move without testing," said Principal Morris Brown of the Manzanita School in Marin City. Recently Daryl has been moved, because of age, to Richardson Bay School.

On the question as to whether Negroes were being discriminated against it was pointed out that the "brightest class' at Manzanita is 100 per cent Negro.

Northern Minnesota Indians still harvest wild rice in the time-honored way of bending the stalks and flailing the grain into their canoes.

Hub Resident Gets Probation

Dick Dudley, 40, of 6 West Hillside Avenue, San Anselmo, who has a previous record of sex offenses, was placed on three years supervised probation Tuesday after conviction of a misdemeanor charge of loitering near where children are playing.

He was charged Aug. 2, after he had previously been arrested on a felony count of sex perversion.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Marin Municipal Court ordered Dudley to register as a sex offender, to seek psychiatric care through the probation department, to stay away from children unless accompanied by another adult, and to refrain from use of alcohol during his probation period.

First Baseman Made Hit With Girl 50 Years Ago

When first baseman John T. Fitzhenry had a good day at the plate for the San Rafael semi-pro baseball team in 1911, he also made a hit with the girl who is now his wife of 50 years.

"I came over from Alameda with my brother, who was pitching for the team, and that's how I met him," she said.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzhenry of 54 San Rafael Avenue, San Anselmo, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary with a reception at their home Saturday from 3 to 5 p.m.

Both natives of San Francisco, they were married in Alameda, and moved to San Anselmo in 1927.

Mrs. Fitzhenry said the marriage succeeded on the basis of "give and take." As in every marriage there were "ups and downs," but "we've had a very happy married life," she said.

Mr. Fitzhenry retired seven years ago after working as cashier for W. R. Grace Co. in San Francisco.

Mrs. Fitzhenry, president of Fairfax Women's Club, has been active in the Marin County Society for Crippled Children and was president of the Parent-Teacher Assn. at the former Main School in San Anselmo, now the Wade Thomas School.

Capital Punishment Is Held Deterrent To Rise Of Murder

Capital punshment seems to be a deterrent to murder and should therefore be retained in our society, attorney William O. Weissich declared last night in Sleepy Hollow.

The former Marin County district attorney spoke to about 80 people at the Sleepy Hollow Presbyterian Church at the second of a church-sponsored series of public discussions. Last week San Quentin Prison Warden Fred R. Dickson spoke against the death penalty.

Weissich said it is impossible to establish conclusive statistics which will show that abolition of the death penalty increases or decreases the number of murders. "And there is no way to prove that the death penalty discourages murderers," he said, "but there are indications that it does, and we should continue capital punshment as long as it is a deterent . . .

"Mankind has known for centuries that fear of death is a deterrent. We who favor capital punishment are not bloodthirsty monsters but have, I think, a more deeply rooted concern for humanity than the abolitionists . . . We should keep the death penalty if it can save more lives in our society by preventing murder."

Weissich cited statisties, which he admitted must be based on "certain assumptions," that Michigan, where the death penalty has been abolished, has 3.9 homicides per 100,000 persons a year whereas California has 3.2 per 100,000.

"This means that 105 more people in California would be murdered each year than are now," he said, "and I think this is worth considering."

The people of California want to keep the death penalty, Weissich said, and abolitionists "don't want it on the ballot because they know this."

"People who have had experience in working with criminals—not those in ivory towers like professors and clergymen—favor the death penalty," he said. Eighty per cent of California judges want to keep the death penalty, he claimed, and even higher percentages of sheriffs and district attorneys want it.

"Most prison wardens favor the death penalty," he asserted. (Among wardens who have come out publicly against it are both Dickson and former Warden Clinton T. Duffy of San Quentin.)

Asked whether he would favor a method of elaborate torture if it were found to be a better deterent than death, Weissich said, "Nobody would advocate that now. Our ancestors would have, though."

The attorney disagreed with Dickson's claim that wealthy killers are never executed. Of course we don't find many rich men who get executed, but neither do we have many rich men who rob service stations," he said.

Weissich said he would have no objection to the televising of executions if "that would be a greater deterrent." But most people would be "disappointed in what they see," he said.

"I've never witnessed an execution myself and I would not care to do so, any more than I would an appendectomy or child-birth."

No alternative to execution, such as life imprisonment, would be successful for certain criminal types, Weissich contended. "Capital punishment is a distasteful but necessary conclusion."

Police To Enter Church

PLAQUEMINE, La. (AP)—Negro pupils boycotting their segregated high school planned a church rally today despite a police warning that officers will disrupt their meeting.

"The church will not be used as a fort any more," Police Chief Dennis Songy said. "If it's not being used for church services, I'll break it up."

Police scattered Negro youths from the Freedom Rock Baptist Church yesterday. Earlier, they used tear gas and electric cattle prods to smash a march to the town's white high school.

Freshmen Elect At Redwood High

The list of officers for the freshman class at Redwood High School was completed yesterday with election of George Bertram as vice president and Ann Auerbach as secretary in runoff elections.

Bertram received 129 votes to Brian Rossi's 111.

Miss Auerbach received 136 to Janet Troppman's 107.

Stan Tobiason was elected president and Jan Ellis was elected treasurer last week.

Shriver Tells How He Got Job

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "I suppose all of you know how I got this job," the director of the Peace Corps told an audience of students at San Francisco State College yesterday.

This brought laughter from the gathering, including the speaker himself — Sargent Shriver, brother-in-law of President John F. Kennedy.

"Well you're wrong," said Shriver, after the laughter died down.

"The president called me up and asked me to take the job. I suggested he should give it to some politician who had supported him.

"The president said, 'you don't understand. A lot of people think this is going to be a fiasco, and it's a lot easier to fire a relative than a deserving politician'."

Shriver, who's making a tour of West Coast colleges, visited Stanford today. He's scheduled to go to San Jose State College tomorrow before returning to San Francisco, where he'll talk to the Commonwealth Club.

GINGERBREAD AND CHROME

How's this for contrast? The old Leland Stanford Home, built in 1857, is dwarfed by its new neighbor—the 17-story State Retirement Building in Sacramento. The mansion where the pioneer railroad builder and founder of Stanford University lived is now a Catholic resident home for dependent teen-age girls. The 14-million-dollar retirement building is ranked fourth largest west of Chicago.

Mount Tam Radio House To Be Cooled

Marin Municipal Water District's radio equipment, which has broken down when temperatures reached 105 degrees in the radio house on Mount Tamalpais' Middle Peak, will now enjoy air-conditioned comfort.

The board yesterday authorized purchase of an air conditioning unit from New Mission Heating Co. of San Rafael for $395. The equipment is operated by remote control.

The Marin Municipal Water District board also:

1. Awarded a contract to J. D. Wilson of Novato to install pipe at the Miller Creek tank site for $1,344.27.

2. Authorized purchase of 1,700 meter couplings for $1,008.42 and 1,650 copper fittings for $2,688 from the Groeniger Co. of Oakland.

3. Retained Edward P. Morphy to appraise property in the Mann Tract in San Anselmo for a pumping station.

4. Approved fire line extensions in San Rafael for 700 feet on Union Street and 750 feet on B Street for a cost of $14,967, to be paid half by the district and half by the city.

Case Against Salesman Out

A charge of indecent exposure was quickly dismissed against San Anselmo salesman Robert Joseph Trumper Tuesday after Trumper's attorney, Albert Bianchi, said he could easily prove his client was outside the county when the crime was supposed to have occurred.

Trumper, 30, of 36 Sunview Avenue, was appearing for arraignment before Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Marin County Municipal Court. He was arrested Oct. 2 by Corte Madera police.

Deputy Dist. Att. William Mackey said yesterday his office had issued a complaint after a 7-year-old girl had picked Trumper's picture from among 10 at the Corte Madera police station. Later, he said, she couldn't identify him in a lineup.

Trumper said his picture was taken when he once was arrested on traffic tickets.

INTERVIEW WITH FORMER PRESIDENT

Ike Says Exploit Soviet-Chinese Rift

(EDITOR'S NOTE: As a military leader and as president, Dwight D. Eisenhower was at the vortex of world developments in the midcentury. Now in retirement, he comments on French President Charles de Gaulle and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and their goals.)

By JACK BELL and MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says the United States should exploit the split between the Soviet Union and Red China—"encourage it and do those things that tend to widen it."

"Assuming this is a genuine split, it is to our great advantage to promote it," Eisenhower said at his office here.

The former president also:

Believes Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev "has come to the conclusion there is nothing to be gained, as of now, by war." But, Eisenhower added, "there is no question in my mind that the Communist objective of world domination is as firm as ever."

Wants inspection safeguards against Soviet cheating written into any U.S.-Soviet agreement to ban nuclear weapons from orbiting space satellites.

Says French President Charles de Gaulle "knows that geographically France is absolutely essential to a successful NATO," and for this reason "is not always easy to deal with."

Believes Ludwig Erhard, slated to succeed Konrad Adenauer as West Germany's chancellor, is a good man.

The text of the interview:

Q. How do you assess the importance of the split between the Soviet Union and Red China? Can the United States exploit this split to its advantage?

A. Assuming this is a genuine split, it is to our great advantage to help promote it—if for no other reason but to delay, if not make impossible, some of the things the Chinese say they want to do.

Q. Would you support an agreement with the Soviets to ban nuclear weapons from orbiting satellites?

A. This is what I want to know: Is each side, then, to be invited into the area where the satellite is fired into orbit, and to inspect it before it goes?

Q. It comes back to the old stumbling block, inspection?

A. Yes, you have to have some kind of inspection.

Q. You had some rather unhappy experiences with Soviet Premier Khrushchev in the past. Can you now accept at face value his coexistence line?

A. As a matter of fact, you know, my personal experiences with Khrushchev have been widely and very badly stated. Actually he was always going out of his way to be personally friendly. He didn't directly address me at the Paris summit meeting (which Khrushchev torpedoed), he addressed the chairman.

There is this about his present attitude: There is no question in my mind that the Communist doctrine and objective of world domination is as firm as ever.

But we must never for one moment forget what their basic objective is.

Q. You had a lot to do with bringing NATO into life. Do you think that nationalism of Western European countries, particularly De Gaulle in France, is threatening the disintegration of this alliance?

A. I doubt whether it is quite that serious. This is what I think: General de Gaulle has been my friend since 1942, and we have had our ups and downs. We have had, really, some tough disputes. But I know this: I have never lost my liking and respect for him, and I think he feels the same way. Ever since I have known him he has made the restoration and dignity, and what he calls the honor and glory of France, his whole life.

Of course, he knows that geographically France is absolutely essential to a successful NATO. So he is not always easy to deal with, but he is an honorable man and he is thinking only of France.

Q. What is the passing of your old friend Adenauer (soon to retire as chancellor of West Germany) going to mean to us in our relations with Germany?

A. This man Erhard (to succeed Adenauer) is a very smart man. I like him. If he can achieve the position that Adenauer had, I think he will be all right.

Woman Arraigned In Forgery Case

Mrs. Grace Mauras, 38, of San Jose was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on the charge of forging her name on a check given to a San Rafael dentist in December, 1962, for a set of false teeth.

Mrs. Mauras was arrested by San Rafael police Tuesday. Police said she was recently released from Agnews State Hospital.

She was to appear in court again today with the public defender.

Dixie Board Approves Plans For Addition

Dixie School District of trustees last night approved preliminary plans for a 4,000-square-foot addition to the seven-classroom Nova Albion School, which will go up near Terra Linda High School.

The expansion will consist of two kindergarten rooms, library, administration office, and corridors.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis recommended the expansion because enrollment in the district is now 100 more than anticipated, and many more homes and apartments are under construction in the district than expected.

Willis reported an enrollment of 3,400 pupils during the first month of school. He said this brings all classes to maximum loads under board policy. Enrollment at this time last year was about 2,850.

The trustees discussed the proposed Northgate apartment development by Draper Companies and asked the superintendent to make projections on the number of pupils expected from the development.

The Dixie School district board also:

1. Authorized purchase of a duplicating machine for $875 plus tax, and an agreement with Marinwood Community Services District to share the cost of turfing at Mary E. Silveira School.

2. Asked the superintendent to compile a list of suggested names relating to Indian tribes for a new school on the Nunes Ranch west of the county farm in Lucas Valley.

3. Named Earl Koehler as representative to the Marin County committee on school district organization to succeed Dorothy Brown.

4. Discussed State Supt. Max Rafferty's suggestions on teaching the effects of smoking and on the hanging of portraits of great presidents on the walls. Willis announced school superintendents of the county are working with medical groups to disseminate information on the effects of smoking. On the hanging of portraits, Willis said: "We just don't believe we should have great men gathering dust all the time on the walls. We feel it is more effective to have the pictures changed and to discuss the various ones."

Language Classes Approved

Spanish instruction in the seventh grade and French in the eighth grade in a pilot program were approved last night by the Tomales Bay Union School District boaord meeting at Marshall School.

"This is a trial before conforming to state law to teach a language in the elementary grades next year," said Mrs. Lois Parks, clerk of the board. The details for the long-range foreign language program have not been completed, she said.

The board also inspected and accepted a new $172.50 gas heater at the Marshall School which was installed during the summer.

The board was notified that the West Marin master plan would be presented during the day on Saturday at Marshall School.

'64 Jet-smooth Luxury CHEVROLET

'64 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan

Besides looks, ride and power - what's so special about it?

(it's so reasonably priced)

Kind of leaves the high-priced cars some explaining to do, wouldn't you say?

Long and luxurious—with a clean fresh-christened look that almost makes you feel somebody should be breaking a champagne bottle over its prow.

Richer roomy interiors with subtle new blendings of colors and fabrics. Like the ultra-soft vinyl upholstery in the new Impala Super Sport Series. And the foam-cushioned front and rear seats and door-to-door carpeting, now standard in all models including the Biscaynes.

A choice of seven engines, no less, with output all the way up (say when!) to 425 hp.*

And a choice of four quiet, smooth transmissions—ranging from automatic* to 4-speed Synchro-Mesh*—to go with them.

And with it all, the opulent feel of that Jet-smooth ride—something some of the expensive makes would dearly love to claim for themselves.

Matter of fact, the most important and noticeable difference between this beautiful new 1964 Chevrolet and the high-priced cars is the price itself.

Let your Chevrolet dealer show you how much luxury that reasonable Chevrolet price now buys. *optional at extra cost

THEY CARRY ON—One member is missing from this happy family. He is Michael J. Di Nola, husband and father, who was an officer on the Thresher which sank in the Atlantic six months ago. The family includes Mrs. Di Nola and children, Matthew, 2, left, Donna, 16 months, on her mother's lap, Debra, 3, Mark, 7, right, and Michael Jr., 9, rear. They live in Rye, N.H.

Thresher Crew's Families Facing Future Bravely

Heartbreak, Loneliness Six Months After Sub Tragedy

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The nuclear submarine Thresher sank six months ago with the loss of 129 men. How are their families facing the future, the heartbreak and loneliness?)

By JAMES CALOGERO

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP) — They put on a valiant front — the families of the Thresher men—but the heartbreak they suffered still shows through.

The Navy's underwater pride and joy, the nuclear submarine Thresher, sank with the loss of 129 men during a test dive 220 miles off Boston six months ago today.

Since that day, April 10, the submarine has been waterlocked only a mile and a half out of reach—the depth of the water at her Atlantic grave.

Ashore, a girl, 3, scribbles a childish note and asks her widowed mother to mail it to daddy. The mother answers kindly and fights the tears.

A boy, 6, reminds his mother that daddy has been away to sea an awfully long time and asks when he is coming home. The mother tells a visitor she awaits the day the boy will understand.

In another home in the Portsmouth area, a 3-month-old boy his father is never to see gurgles, unknowing of tragedy. He was born three months after his father went down.

Loss of Thresher left 150 fatherless children. Aboard the submarine were 16 officers, 96 enlisted men and 17 civilian technicians.

There is no bitterness among the widows and children.

At a trim ranch home in Portsmouth, Mrs. Walter Jack Noonis says her two sons and two daughters, ranging in age from 2 to 10, keep her busy "but there's this terrible loneliness about the time of the day your husband is supposed to be coming home."

In Rye, N.H., Mrs. Michael J. Di Nola—her husband was a lieutenant commander—took a breather from the strenuous effort her five small children require and recalls the past six months.

"With five small children, I knew I had to face up to the facts and make my adjustment quickly. I found the answer in keeping busy."

She's still active in Navy affairs.

"It's the way Mike would have wanted it," she says. "The Navy was his whole life since his days at Annapolis. I met him on a blind date while he was a midshipman and I was doing graduate nursing in New York, his home city."

The families of the 112 Navy men received a death gratuity of six months pay. In addition they receive $112 a month plus 12 per cent of base pay. Many of the men also carried national service and commercial life insurance policies.

The children of the Navy men are eligible for college scholarships which can be drawn from the Dolphin Fund — a private fund in Norfolk, Va., administered by the Navy.

The 44 children left by the civilians lost on Thresher will be eligible for scholarships from a special memorial fund established through public subscription.

TERRIBLE LONELINESS—Mrs. Walter Jack Noonis, whose husband sank with the Thresher, is shown pointing out a submarine plaque in her Portsmouth, N.H., home. She says her four children, ranging in age from 2 to 10, help her keep busy "but there is this terrible loneliness about the time of day your husband is supposed to be coming home." (AP Wirephotos)

Minorities Post Can't Be Accepted

A county probation officer, who was picked to help set up a pilot program for training and hiring of minorities, will not be able to take the job because of his probation workload, County Administrator Alan Bruce said today.

Mrs. Thomas (Marie) Ray of Larkspur, who formerly worked for the State Department of Employment in San Rafael, has been hired for the initial 90-day trial period authorized by the county board of supervisors. She will go to work Monday at the Civic Center.

The original plan was to have Probation Officer Joel Mitchell "loaned" from the adult probation division to the personnel office to coordinate the minority employment and training program.

Burgess' Ashes In Father's Tomb

WEST MEON, England (AP)—The ashes of Guy Burgess, renegade British diplomat, have been buried in an English country churchyard.

Only West Meon's rector, the Rev. John Hurst, and three of Burgess' relatives were at the ceremony. The ashes were interred in the grave of Burgess' father, a Royal Navy commander.

Burgess defected from the British Foreign Office with Donald MacLean in 1951, and died in Moscow six weeks ago.

Lost Riding Horse Is Rescued

An old Novato riding horse was reportedly doing well today after being rescued from a septic tank Monday by the Marin Humane Society.

The horse had been missing for about a week from the land of J. Robert Gomez of 2495 Novato Boulevard. On Monday, Lisa Gomez, 7, and her 5-year-old brother, Peter, heard a whinny.

They discovered the horse up to its neck in a septic tank.

Humane Officers Irvin Sousa and Bernard Weller with the assistance of workers on the San Marin housing development used sling, ropes, block and tackle and a boom truck to lift the horse to solid ground.

Mrs. Gomez described the horse as a pinto "about 20 years old" that belongs to a friend. He suffered a few cuts, but appears to be all right now, she said.

Novato Freshmen Officers Elected

Kerry Onderdonk was elected president of the freshman class last week at Novato High School.

Also elected were Joanne Carrigan, vice president; Joanne Fagnani, secretary; Sherri Dimmick, treasurer, and Dan Carlos, Carla Inglish and Sharon Sawyer, freshmen representatives to the student congress.

Vacation Spending

NEW YORK (UPI) — More than 98 million Americans will spend nearly 26 million dollars on domestic vacations and travel this year, according to American Express. The emphasis will be on out-of-state vacationing and the spending total will be up from 4.9 billion dollars U.S. vacationers shelled out last year.

Rec Chairman Wants Better Communication

Marin County parks and recreation commissioners are disturbed by "lack of communication" with other county departments and officials.

Mrs. William B. Newman, chairman of the parks and recreation commission, said today that she and her colleagues sometimes work under "an almost complete lack of communications on what is going on in the county."

She has called a special meeting of the commission, to discuss this and other matters for 2 p.m. next Thursday in room 413 at the Civic Center.

Items on the agenda include (1) evaluation of developments since the creation of the parks and recreation division in April, and (2) a review of the semi-annual report as developed by Director Kelvin J. Nelson at the commission meeting of Oct. 2.

On matters of concern to the parks and recreation group, "I have to scan the papers to learn about what's going on, and then only by happenstance," said Mrs. Newman. "It means we are working pretty much alone."

Mrs. Newman said she is "hoping that we might be able to resolve these problems of communication."

The job of the commission and Director Nelson is to coordinate and develop parks and recreation facilities throughout the county. Some of their projects are the new fishing pier and site development at Paradise Park, improvement of Muir Beach overlook and Miller Park, preparation of a master plan for West Marin adjacent to the new Point Reyes National Seashore, and in general the preservation of scenic and open areas in the county.

Chamber Board Nominees Due

The San Rafael Chamber of Commerce directors have appointed a committee to nominate candidates for the board in next month's election.

Six directors will be elected for two-year terms by a mail ballot, and three will be appointed for one-year terms.

The nominating committee is Jordan L. Martinelli Jr., chairman, Mrs. Blanche Redmond, George Lawrence, Robert W. F. Severin and Robert Ritter.

Chamber directors also took a boat tour of the San Rafael waterfront to study facilities for boating and the potential for further development.

Greek Prince, 44, To Marry Teener

BRUSSELS (AP)—Queen Frederika of Greece will not oppose the marriage of her 44-year-old brother, Prince Christian of Hanover, to a teen-aged Belgian commoner, says the father of the bride-to-be.

Armand L. Dutry, wealthy Belgian industrialist, told newsmen in Brussels: "I can say one thing: There is not the least opposition."

Mireille Dutry, 17, tall and attractive, fingered her engagement ring—a ruby in a cluster of diamonds—and said:

"I am not afraid of it. The difference in age is of no importance at all."

WILLIE GETTING FAT

Willie the whale, which Philadelphia's Aquarama claims is the only North American pilot whale in captivity, is getting fat and sassy. He lost 200 pounds when he arrived Aug. 3, but a daily died of 90 pounds of squid has sent him up to 1,500 pounds.

Underground Utilities Forecast In Mill Valley Area In 10 Years

Mill Valley's Lytton Square and a portion of Miller Avenue in the Locust business district may have utilities fully underground within a 10-year period, the Miller Avenue section to be completed within five years.

A "horse back estimate" on cost to the city for modern steel street lights in each area would total $40,000 and add one and one-half cents to two cents to the tax roll.

These facts were disclosed this morning at a meeting of the city council subcommittee on underground utilities in city hall.

This was the first council subcommittee meeting held in Mill Valley since Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks announced Monday that such meetings henceforth will all be held in Mill Valley, time and place of meeting announced, and that they are open to the public. "Government must not only be above reproach," said Sheeks, "it must appear to be above reproach."

The previous two meetings of the subcommittee were held at Franklin Hospital in San Francisco, of which Councilman George D. Monardo is administrator.

Monardo, chairman, who has strongly urged the beautification program, said he will recommend the proposals to the council. In the meantime, representatives of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and Pacific Gas and Electric Co. agreed to work on a proposed ordinance which would go to City Atty. Leland H. Jordan for possible revision, after which a public hearing would be held.

Speaking for PT&T were R. W. Kern, senior engineer, San Rafael, and Charles F. Berlenbach, manager of the Southern Marin office, Mill Valley. Representing PG&E were V. H. Lind, senior commercial analyst, San Francisco, and Edward R. Pedersen, manager of the Mill Valley-Sausalito office.

The Miller Avenue area, in which it is proposed to put lines underground, runs from Valley Circle on the south to a projection of Fern Avenue on the north. Lytton Square would be affected on Throckmorton from Madrona Avenue on to the west to East Blithedale and Sunnyside avenues on the east.

The proposal, according to Pedersen, "would remove the old pole which fronts on the citiy hall."

The telephone company already has a large amount of underground utilities in Lytton Square and for this reason its part of the program would be completed in five years.

Larkspur Will Look Into Tree Ordinance 'Soon As Possible'

The Larkspur City Council will discuss a proposed tree ordinance as soon as possible but has prior unfinished business ahead of it, Mayor Lesly A. Daveler told the parks and recreation commission last night.

Daveler added that City Atty. Samuel W. Gardiner is considering a possible change regarding appeals in the ordinance proposed by the commission.

Chairman Robert V. Golden said he would write Richard Simmons, new director of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission, inviting him to the Larkspur commission's next meeting Nov. 13. The local commission wishes to learn the uses to which Eastman Hall is being put, and City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper has reported the joint commission has not kept him informed recently.

Commissioners told Daveler their recent inspection of Eastman Hall found it in "much better shape" than at the preceding inspection about eight months ago.

With the tree ordinance hanging fire, the commission decided to discuss a master tree list at its next meeting. From a manual prepared by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and from other data, the commission will learn which types of trees are best for planting in the city varied terrain.

Religion In School, But No Sociology Rafferty Declares

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, says he feels religion should be a part of public school education but that sociological matters should not.

Speaking yesterday to the Society of Chartered Property and Casualty Underwriters, Rafferty said, "God should be in the schools. The United States was formed for religious purposes, has been maintained for religious purposes."

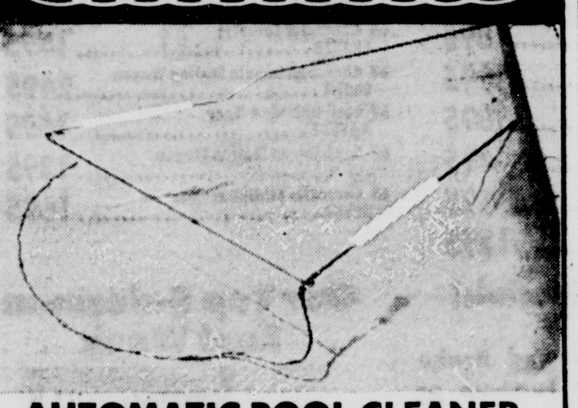

He was referring to recent court rulings on the use of prayer in schools. He said it was one of 12 problems in California education.

Referring to the integration issue, Rafferty said the schools must not be used to settle sociological matters.

Inmate Is Stabbed At Prison Hospital

A San Quentin prison inmate, serving a five-year to life term, faces a possible death penalty for allegedly stabbing another inmate yesterday in the tuberculosis ward of the prison's hospital.

James K. Birochie, 53, serving a one to 14-year sentence for forgery from Los Angeles County, was in good condition today after being stabbed in the left shoulder with a sharpened metal rod.

Both Birochie and his alleged assailant, Carlos Andrade, in prison on a Ventura County narcotics conviction, were being treated for tuberculosis.

The stabbing occurred at 2:15 p.m. during the exercise period in the hospital. "It was brewing for a long period of time," according to Associate Warden Dale Frady.

The State Penal Code states than any convict serving a life term who is convicted of an assault on another prisoner must automatically be sentenced to death.

Frady said the case would be referred to the Marin County district attorney's office for a decision on whether to prosecute. Andrade will go before the prison disciplinary board Tuesday.

Stay Refused Condemned Man

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Unless he can win a stay between now and Oct. 30, rape slayer Lawrence Akins Johnson will die in the San Quentin gas chamber on that day.

The State Supreme Court yesterday refused a stay of execution for Johnson, 35, who was sentenced for murdering Doris Keyes, 50, in Riverside County on Sept. 11, 1961, four days after being paroled from prison. He had previously served 11 years on a rape conviction.

Johnson's attorneys contended he was mentally abnormal "with an utter lack of power to control sexual impulses," in their appeal for a stay.

Paris Puts Ceiling On Price Of Meat

PARIS (AP)—The French government has put a ceiling of $1.20 a pound on ordinary beefsteak in a new move to fight inflation.

Finance Minister Valery Giscard D'Estaing said the retail ceiling was aimed at butchers who failed to respond to the government's appeal to hold down prices.

Wholesale prices were held within government-approved limits, he said, but retail prices climbed to $1.23 a pound.

Classes Planned

College Speaker Policy Requested Of Trustees

A College of Marin policy on campus appearance of controversial speakers under student or faculty sponsorship will be asked of the Marin Junior College District board of trustees at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in room 61 of the college art building.

College President Stephen E. Epler requested the policy determination as an aftermath of the speech on campus Tuesday by Albert J. Lima, Northern California chairman of the Communist Party.

Lima spoke in Olney Hall at invitation of the Mariner Discussion Committee, a student group. His talk attracted a full house and he was questioned for an hour by students after reading his speech.

Lima's appearance on campus drew protests from two Republican organizations.

At tonight's meeting the college board also will hear a report from structural engineer Mark Falk on the possibility that site work for the new gymnasium complex might cause flooding of College Park subdivision of Larkspur. Residents expressed fear of flooding to the board Sept. 26.

Singapore Smashes Red Strike Hope

SINGAPORE (AP) — Communists and other left-wing extremists reeled today under the second sledgehammer blow in less than four weeks to their hopes of dominating Singapore, Malaysia's trade and military center.

A leftist general strike, with which the Reds hoped to cripple Singapore's economy, collapsed last night.

Hundreds of workers had already gone back to their jobs when the government declared the strike politically motivated and illegal. Police arrested 137 persons.

College Speaker Policy Requested Of Trustees

A College of Marin policy on campus appearance of controversial speakers under student or faculty sponsorship will be asked of the Marin Junior College District board of trustees at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in room 61 of the college art building.

College President Stephen E. Epler requested the policy determination as an aftermath of the speech on campus Tuesday by Albert J. Lima, Northern California chairman of the Communist Party.

Lima spoke in Olney Hall at invitation of the Mariner Discussion Committee, a student group. His talk attracted a full house and he was questioned for an hour by students after reading his speech.

Lima's appearance on campus drew protests from two Republican organizations.

At tonight's meeting the college board also will hear a report from structural engineer Mark Falk on the possibility that site work for the new gymnasium complex might cause flooding of College Park subdivision of Larkspur. Residents expressed fear of flooding to the board Sept. 26.

Singapore Smashes Red Strike Hope

SINGAPORE (AP) — Communists and other left-wing extremists reeled today under the second sledgehammer blow in less than four weeks to their hopes of dominating Singapore, Malaysia's trade and military center.

A leftist general strike, with which the Reds hoped to cripple Singapore's economy, collapsed last night.

Hundreds of workers had already gone back to their jobs when the government declared the strike politically motivated and illegal. Police arrested 137 persons.

DANTE PATTARGA
He won't be pushed out.

Controller's Good Will Man Retiring

Dante (ambassador of good will) Pattarga, 65, senior account clerk in the county auditor's office, will retire at the end of this month after more than 13 years on the job.

"He is one of the most likable employees, not only in the Civic Center but in the courthouse in San Rafael," said Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell. "You might say he is our ambassador of good will. He is also an efficient account clerk, and we shall miss him."

Retirement for Pattarga is optional. "But I don't like to be pushed out," the young-looking Pattarga explained. "It's against my principle. I'd rather quit on my own volition."

So instead of "retiring," Pattarga is "quitting" to join a typewriter firm in San Rafael.

Pattarga recalls he was an interior decorator by trade when he first went to the Marin County Courthouse to look for a job.

"It was April, 1950, that I walked into Mr. Jones' (late County Clerk George Jones) office. He asked me what I did, and I said, 'I'm an interior decorator.'

"He said, 'We don't need interior decorators here, but can you type?' I said I could and was hired. A few days later, Mrs. Jones told me, 'You're the fastest typist in the courthouse.'"

Pattarga stayed with the county ever since, later moving into accounting work. He lives alone in an apartment at 1012 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

A sidelight to Pattarga's county employment was disclosed by Mitchell.

When he applied for employment in 1950, he subtracted 14 years from his actual age — "and everybody believed him," said Mitchell. "But five years ago, birth certificates were required of all employees, and that's when we found out. Mr. Pattarga was so embarrassed, he took three weeks vacation and three weeks sick leave before returning to work."

San Rafael Apartment Plan Changes Hands

A 90-unit San Rafael apartment project originally planned by the Seabreeze Construction Co. has been taken over by a new group of San Diego men.

Bayview Associates, a partnership of William Fleming, Lawrence Daly, Don Hart and Jack Simond, has purchased the 2.5-acre site of Seabreeze's proposed San Rafael Village at 215 Bayview Street, near D Street, and will proceed with the development.

Fleming, who heads the group, said building of the apartments which will now be known as Bayview Manor will get under way immediately. Some modifications have been made in the original Seabreeze plans, he said, but there are no major changes. Completion is expected in about five months.

A construction shack has been set up on the site and Daly will be in charge of the office.

Fleming said his group is not connected with Seabreeze Construction Co. in any way. He added that the project is being soundly financed by a Palo Alto savings and loan firm.

Simond has taken up residence in Novato. The other principals are planning to move to Marin County.

Fleming also reported Bayview Associates has taken over a large construction job in San Francisco. He said the firm is interested in developing other Marin properties but has no immediate plans in that direction.

Biggest Mistake American League Made Was Ignoring Negro Players

CONNOLLY

What will the outcome of the 1963 World Series prove?

Will it show the American League is slower or will it prove the National League rates higher?

Or does it prove anything, other than the baseball public has to be reckoned as a gullible clientele baseball magnates can't afford to lose?

Year after year, the N. Y. Yankees have ruled the roost while the other clubs have slowly been decaying. The Yanks had the money and the jump on other owners in that they knew how to develop young players through a cleverly handled "farm hatchery."

BUT THE biggest mistake the American League made was ignoring the Negro players. No one has ever proved it, and perhaps nobody can, for sure, but it no secret there are fewer colorer players in the American League, by far, than in the National. And until a few years ago, the ratio was so lopsided, as to be termed ridiculous.

While the American League was shooing away Negro players, the National League, with glee, kept signing them right and left, so that today the National League is much faster and better balanced than the younger circuit.

A PROMINENT big league manager told me last spring the Negro player was the difference between both leagues, at the same time telling me if I used his name he would deny it. This skipper admitted the ban is no longer in existence but he argues it represents the difference between the two big leagues.

Today, as glaring example, we find the N. Y. Yanks with only a few Negro players, Elston Howard, catcher, being the standout and the only Negro "veteran" on the squad.

Compare the Yanks lineup with the Dodgers and you get what I mean. There isn't any other way to explain it except to place it right where it belongs — on the American boycott.

GIANT BASEBALL news, since the close of the season, has been sliced pretty thin. Jim Coker, a recond rate catcher was traded away for Ken MacKenzie, a southpaw out of Yale, by way of the Mets and Cards.

But unofficial as it may seem to be right now, there is every reason to believe Cookie Lavagetto, Met coach and assistant manager, will be hired, if he isn't already, to give manager Alvin Dark a lift, either as a coach, scout or advisor.

The employment of Lavagetto, while it tends to be just dandy, could be a direct rebuke to Manager Dark. It either means the top Giant brass thinks Dark needs help, or they are not pleased with his effort in 1963.

BUT WHATEVER is behind the hiring of Lavagetto, it really is significant. Cookie isn't anything but a top-flight manager, one of his biggest attributes being that he getst along with players. He knows the game from a playing, managing, scouting and coaching angle and can do the Giants NOTHING BUT GOOD, even to public relations on the field.

If he gets Lavagetto, he'll be getting a buy Casey Stengel once picked to succeed him as Met manager when he quit. And because Ole' Casey recommended Lavagetto to the Giants, it might mean Stengel wants his pal well taken care of before he turns in his halter.

49ers Last In NFL's Statistics

Coach Jack Christiansen was not impressed by the San Francisco 49ers' offense after looking both at their practice session and latest National Football League statistics.

Latest NFL figures show that the 49ers have moved the ball for fewer yards than any team in the league—only 738 in four contests.

Quarterbacks Bob Waters and Lamar McHan, both vying for the starting job, did plenty of passing in yesterday's offensive workout.

The coach said "They didn't look good, and they didn't look bad—they just looked fair." Considering the fact that both looked bad last Sunday at Detroit, this signified some improvement.

Guard John Thomas, who pulled a leg muscle, missed the drill and looks like a doubtful participant in Sunday's battle at Baltimore. But halfback Don Lisbon did some more running despite a pulled hamstring and should be able to perform against the Colts.

ENOUGH PROBLEMS

Christiansen said that he had not heard much about the Colts except that "Lenny Moore is back, and that gives us enough problems to worry about." However, two other top Baltimore receivers, Ray Berry and Jimmy Orr, will probably miss Sunday's game.

Baltimore edged the 49ers 20-14 in their first meeting a month ago.

Christiansen noted that Baltimore traditionally does not rush linebackers in on the passers as much as Detroit. But he predicted the Colts would be red-dogging plenty Sunday after noting the Lions' success in the same maneuver last Sunday.

The yards gained passing by the 49ers against Detroit plus the yards lost trying to pass by the Prospectors equalled minus ten—lowest total in the history of the team.

ODD PIECE OF LUGGAGE

World pole vault record holder John Pennel of North Eastern Louisiana State College checks his fiberglass poles before they are loaded into hold of jet airliner carrying him to Japan. Pennel is scheduled to appear and participate in Tokyo International Sports Week, starting tomorrow. About 40 American athletes and coaches have been invited. (AP Wirephoto)

Warriors Win; Wilt Limits His Shooting

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—The San Francisco Warriors take on the Los Angeles Lakers in a National Basketball Assn. exhibition rematch here tonight.

The Warriors upset the Lakers 105-97 at Stockton last night as Wilt Chamberlain was conspicuous by his lack of shooting

The perennial NBA scoring king by-passed several opportunities for easy buckets in order to set up his mates, but still managed to lead all scorers with 26 points.

Wayne Hightower was a standout for the Warriors as he hit 17 points while holding Laker ace Elgin Baylor to 14 points. Jump-shooting Dick Barnett led the Lakers with 16.

Los Angeles led 46-45 at the half, but the Warriors moved out in front 73-69 at the end of the third stanza and held a 10-point edge through most of the final period.

The teams meet again tomorrow night in Portland. Last night's Warrior win left them with a 2-5 exhibition slate in battles against the Lakers and Philadelphia 76ers.

Hunters Safety Class To Start In Novato

A hunters safety course for young hunters will start Oct. 17 at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall on Machin Avenue in Novato, sponsored by the Novato Junior Rifle Club and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The course will be taught from 7 to 9 p.m. on Thursdays for six weeks. There is a registration charge to cover the cost of materials in the course, said V. G. Bertrand of 7466 Redwood Highway, in charge of the course.

Schau's 21 Leads San Rafael Cagers

Rich Schau pumped through 21 points yesterday as San Rafael High defeated Tamalpais, 50-24 in a Marin Athletic League Class C basketball contest.

6 Seals Unsigned On Eve Of Opener

It was six down and six to go among the San Francisco Seals corps of veterans and their battles over contracts.

Owner Coley Hall signed a half-dozen key performers yesterday, including Nick Mickoski, the team's leading scorer last year. Others to end their holdouts included Paul Jackson, Charlie Burns, Ed Panagabko, Ray Cyr and Larry Lund.

But with the Western Hockey League opener tomorrow night, that still left six other men unsigned — Al Nicholson, Camille Bedard, Tom Thurlby, Len Haley, Pete Panagabko and Cliff Pennington.

Haley flew into San Francisco yesterday to talk to Hall and most of the others have been working out with the team all along. Hall indicated he thought most of the six would be signed by tomorrow night's Cow Palace lid-lifter against Los Angeles.

LOSE ROOKIE

The Seals lost a promising young rookie yesterday when Joe Watson was recalled by the Boston Bruins and shipped to Minneapolis.

Coach Bud Poile warned that the Blades were much improved over last year. He cited their 6-2 defeat of the world champion Toronto Maple Leafs the night before the Leafs breezed past the Seals, 8-2.

"They (the Blades) have picked up some good players in the likes of Norm Johnson and Ron Leopold and they should be improved over last season," Poile noted.

However, he conceded, the Seals have generally been able to handle the Blades by banging them around and slowing down their speed game.

An interesting sidelight for the Seals will be appearance of Jimmy McLeod as goalie for the Blades. He had his good nights and bad ones in the nets for the 1962-63 champion Seals.

Bulldogs' Rich Ahern Is Prep Of The Week

Rich Ahern, offensive tackle and defensive end for the San Rafael High School's Bulldog grid team, has been selected as Prep of the Week by the Independent-Journal sports staff for his play in last week's victory over Novato High.

Ahern, a senior, plays both defensive end positions, alternating between left and right. Literally being all over the field, the 6-1, 195-pound lineman made 12 tackles and four assists in the Bulldogs' 7-6 win over Novato in the Marin Athletic League opener last Friday.

Ahern played first string on last year's team as a junior. On defense he played linebacker in 1962 but was moved to the end spot this year. And it seems to have paid off.

San Rafael head grid coach Bob Muster has all kinds of praise for Ahern, saying "He's as tough a player as there is in the league." He is one of the co-captains on the San Rafael team.

Rich is one of two Aherns on the varsity team for San Rafael. The other, Dan, is no relation.

Drake Club To Meet

A meeting of the Drake Benchwarmers will be held next Monday at 8 p.m. in room 309 at Drake High School. Movies of the football teams' last few games will be shown as part of the regular meeting.

Mets, Colts Hope To Improve Selves In Draft

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The New York Mets and Houston Colts, firmly settled at the bottom of the Natioinal League after two years, have an opportunity to improve themselves today in a special draft of personnel from the eight other teams.

Four players from each team will be eligible for the draft but under the special rules the Mets and Colts may choose only one of the four unless the other clubs agree. The price on each player is $30,000.

The special draft was agreed upon during the World Series for the sole purpose of strengthening the two expansion teams.

The San Francisco Giants reportedly have placed up for draft four of the following five players: Pitchers Don Larsen, Billy Pierce, Jack Fisher and Billy Hoeft and first baseman Norm Larker.

Others prominently mentioned during the World Series last week were Don Hoak and Ryne Duren of the Philadelphia Phillies; outfielder Don Dillard and pitcher Ron Piche of Milwaukee; pitcher Larry Sherry and utilityman Lee Walls of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Also, pitichers Harvey Haddix and Elroy Face of the Pittsburgh Pirates; catcher Carl Sawatski and pitcher Bobby Shantz of the St. Louis Cardinals; pitcher Jim Coates and outfielder Ken Walters of Cincinnati; and infielder Steve Boros and outfielder Don Landrum of the Chicago Cubs.

Cycle Race Canceled

The Marin cyclists have canceled their 25-mile massed-start race scheduled for Sunday to accept an invitation to a race at Santa Rosa that day, publicity chairman Ken Potter announced today.

A yellow perch weighing 4 pounds, 3 ounces, caught by Dr. C. C. Abbott in New Jersey in May, 1865, is still considered a record for ts class.

WRESTLING WITH BOXING GLOVES?

Although the picture looks more like a wrestling match, it is really an odd example of boxing. Referee Del Markham is framed in a maze of legs and arms trying to stop a fourth round brawl Monday night at Salt Lake Fairgrounds Coliseum which erupted between middleweights Herman Fandel (on mat) of Las Vegas, Nev., and Charlie Hall of Mesa, Ariz. Jones In Ryder Cup Limelight

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Professional golf stars of the United States and Britain clash here tomorrow in the 15th biennial Ryder Cup series in an atmosphere dominated by the greatest amateur of them all—Bob Jones.

This is Bob Jones' home, and he still is king—not only to his worshipping neighbors but to the present-day giants of the game.

Arnold Palmer is terrific, Julius Boros is an amazing physical specimen at 43 and Peter Alliss of England is one of the all-time stylists. But all of them look to Jones as the emperor.

"Bob Jones is marvelous—an ideal of golfers everywhere," said Alliss. "I am sure he is revered as much in Britain as he is in the United States."

Jones, now 61, confined to a wheel chair by a crippling illness but still keenly interested in the sport which he helped popularize throughout the world, has attended every dinner honoring the Ryder Cup teams.

When Palmer, captain, sends his U.S. team against the invaders tomorrow at 8 a.m. in the first of 32 matches covering three days, Jones is almost certain to be in the gallery.

As honorary chairman, he will follow play in an electric cart or listen to developments from the club house lawn—"by ear," as he puts it, in referring to the cheers and groans of the gallery.

The Ryder Cup competition, won by the United States 11 of 14 times and never lost on American shores, opens with eight foursome matches. These will be followed by eight best-ball matches Saturday and 16 individual contests Sunday.

COLLEGE GRID ROUNDUP

Stanford Loses A Halfback; Levy Juggles Bears' Lineup

STANFORD — Stanford defensive back Jim Shroyer, who injured a knee Tuesday, will not play Saturday night against the Rice Owls at Houston.

However, Coach John Ralston said today end Bob. Howard, sidelined with the flu, will make the trip.

BEARS JUGGLED

BERKELEY—Tom Lutes was moved back to fullback from end and Tom Rellis was boosted to the second team fullback slot yesterday as Coach Marv Levy continued to juggle his Golden Bears in preparation for Saturday's match against Duke.

USC GETS LIFT

LOS ANGELES — The University of Southern California squad leaves International Airport tomorrow morning for Indiana and the Saturday clash with Notre Dame.

Notre Dame, which lost 25-0 last year to the Trojans, has two close defeats on its record this season. The Irish lost their opener 14-9 to Wisconsin and were edged 7-6 by state rival Purdue University.

USC got a lift from Hal Bedsole's smooth pass receiving in practice yesterday. The towering end dropped some key passes in USC's only loss of the year, a 17-12 defeat by Oklahoma.

COFFEY WORKS OUT

SEATTLE—Washington Husky fullback Junior Coffey showed little ill effect from his recently fractured right foot yesterday as he ran hard and fast during a pass pattern drill.

However, Coach Jim Owens said Coffey isn't expected to play against the Oregon State Beavers here Saturday.

UCLA VS. SYRACUSE

LOS ANGELES — UCLA hopes Syracuse University's second trip westward this season will prove to be another upsetting experience Friday night.

A fired-up Kansas team upset the powerful Orangemen 10-0 when Ben Schwartzwalder's team ventured into Lawrence Kan., but Syracuse manhandled two visiting opponents from Massachusetts — Boston College 32-21 and Holy Cross 48-0.

Bruin assistant coach Dick Mansperger said, "This is another typical Syracuse football team. It will be the strongest team physically we'll face all year — a big and mobile line with a tank-like backfield."

However, UCLA has improved steadily since dropping its first two games against Pitt and Penn State, and then winning 10-9 over Stanford last week.

Joey Lopes Plans To Quit Boxing

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Joey Lopes, Sacramento lightweight boxer, says he's quitting the ring after 14 years.

Lopes said he plans to work in playgrounds and recreation or public relations.

The 32-year-old fighter was a contender for the lightweight title for several years. He fought former champion Joe Brown to a draw in a 10-round non-title fight in 1957, but lost to the champion in a title fight in Chicago a year later.

Get Ready: Waterfowl Season In Most Areas To Start On Oct. 23

STEVENS

Just to set the record straight, the general waterfowl season opens at noon on Oct. 23, but it is already legal to shoot in the northeastern area of California. Season opened at 1 p.m. Tuesday. Too early, of course, to report on what took place, but according to the scuttlebutt, prospects are as good, maybe better, than last year. The arrangement in the Honey Lake sector, on Highway 395 northeast of Susanville, which opened on Tuesday and will extend through Jan. 5, 1964, is on a first come-first served basis. Costs you $2 a day or $5 for the season. Hunting only on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays.

SAY! Anyone have a yen to own a baby tiger or possess a tiger skin coat or rug?. If so, get in touch with the Wisdoms—Wally and Willie (Mrs.). This pair of big game hunters will be leaving for India very shortly to stalk the striped carnivore. Seems the Wisdoms have exhausted the big game resources of Africa, so will hit the bush of India for El Tigre. Happy hunting to the hardy pair.

Getting back to our homeland hunting—prospects look as good, maybe better, this year than last for the opening of the general waterfowl season in California. In the Klamath Basin an estimated 2,000,000 ducks and 200,000 geese are hanging around waiting to take wing if nature blows up some stormy weather, or the early nimrods scare them into flight.

TO THE guys and gals who prefer the rod to the gun, here's the local lowdown: Salmon trolling has been a bit on the slow side lately. From Caruso's at Sausalito I learned that on Monday no boats left after salmon, but a few did on Tuesday. If any schools had been located, the skippers weren't talking it over. My Halicrafter was silent except for a few scattered confabs, bewailing the slowness of salmon and the presence of stripers in the Muir Beach-Duxbury region.

A much more rosy report on bass fishing both inside and outside. The Alcatraz-Racoon Strait-G.G. Bridge areas have continued the phenominal yield of stripers: live bait, trolling and sinker bumping.

THE BIG NEWS, however, is that the bait fishermen in the upper San Pablo Bay are at long last catching fish. Some really exciting action the past 48 hours. The Rodeo Marina reported Frank Mello taking a 22, a 27 and a 30 pounder near Union Oil Wharf, and D. Scaglione landed 10, 12 and 18-pounders on bullheads off Buoy 5 on Sunday.

Nadine Lessley of Dowrelio's at Crockett told me that Bob O'Brien netted 10 limits on Saturday (Al Owen was top rod with a 35-pound beauty), hit the jackpot on Sunday, and had five limits on Monday. Johnny Sivera came to port with 17 bass to 18 pounds—15 on sardines and two on bullheads.

On Sunday one of the party boats took a 30-pound salmon along with quite a few stripers; the Dowrelio No. 5 had four limits to eight pounds. The Millie Linn and the Dragnet also did fairly well. So—it sorta looks like the delayed runs of bass in the San Pablo has begun.

Hawks Whip Celtics

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—The St. Louis Hawks came on after a slow first quarter and beat the Boston Celtics 114-98 in a National Basketball Assn. exhibition last night.

'A Great Honor,' Says Manager Of The Year

HOUSTON (AP) — Johnny Keane says the only thing that would have made him happier than being named National League Manager of the Year would have been winning the pennant.

The spunky little St. Louis Cardinal skipper was named to the top honor among National League managers yesterday in The Associated Press poll of sportswriters and sportcasters.

"This is great," said the 51-year-old Keane, a baseball veteran who never played in the major leagues.

"The honor is even more pleasant to me because there are so many good managers in the National League."

Keane polled 53 of 71 votes cast with Walter Alston of the world champion Dodgers getting 15 and Bobby Bragan, of Milwaukee, three.

Keane was a shortstop in the minor leagues and worked his way up to manager jobs in the Cardinal system with stops at Albany, Ga., Houston, Rochester, N.Y., Columbus, Ohio and Omaha.

Keane's team made a bold late season run for the pennant this year before losing three straight to Los Angeles to finish second.

Keane is very optimistic about his Cardinals in the 1964 race.

The leading pair scored 64. Following in second place were the teams of Mrs. Lynn Sumpter-Mrs. John Kobi; and Mrs. Tom Hardcastle-Mrs. T. H. Keigwin, both teams with 65's.

Tied for third were Mrs. William Sparrow and Mrs. Aubrey Babson, Mrs. Clay Littleston and Mrs. Eugene Philbin, and Mrs. Warren Smith and Marcia Lee, all three teams with 66.

Give A Woman A Little Time And She'll Change Her Ideas On Boats

The young couple walked into one of the Marin boat shops. He immediately and joyously began examining boats, inside and out.

His wife examined her off-mauve laquered fingernails and pouted.

Finally, outside at the wharf, he found a 21-foot outboard cruiser. "Come and give a look, Honey. I think I've found our boat," he yelped.

Hanging grimly onto the gangway ropes, she high-heeled her way down, and he held out a hand to help her aboard. "I can't climb over that slab of wood," she said protestingly, "and this big rope is in the way—"

HE WINCED. "That slab of wood is called a rail, dear, and that rope is not a rope—it's a line."

Mincing about inside the cabin she opened and slammed doors, wrinkling her nose and wailing in that inimitable female custom, "The kitchen is too small and the bathroom is impossible—"

Enunciating clearly and speaking softly he explained, "Not kitchen. It's a galley. And don't say bathroom. IT'S referred to as: The Head."

She eyed him frostily. "That's ridiculous. You talk your crazy language, I prefer English. Apparently you've made up our mind, so go ahead, buy his tub. But never, never, expect me to like it. What's more, I know something you don't know; you're going to get taken on this deal."

"Why?"

"BECAUSE there aren't any brakes on it, silly. I know. I looked all over for them."

Nevertheless, he did buy the boat. A year has gone by. It's the time of the bass and he's fishing off Point San Quentin. She comes out of the galley with two steaming cups of coffee. The bay is an improbably lovely cerulean and the air is salt-fresh. Sitting down, she props her sensible rubber-soled boating shoes on the rail. Then regarding her chipped nail polish, she sighs in immense contentment, remarking, "Aren't you glad I talked you into buying our darling boat, sweetie—"

THE COAST GUARD Auxiliary classes on Safety and Small Boat Handling started Sept. 30; however, there is still six more sessions which is loads of time to pick up a volume of boating information. The meeting place is the Little Theater of the San Rafael High School, and the time is 7:30 every Monday evening.

Next week's class will deal with the subject of small boat hauling; and how to set the motor on the hull properly. Also, practical motor maintenance that the average boat owner will be able to understand. The care and maintenance of lines—an item of no small expense to any boater—will be explained. "Bring along your own length of line to experiment on," says Al Hart, who will be instructing.

Other "faculty members" who have repeatedly devoted their time to these classes are, training officer, Charles Snyder and Robert Soldovini. Other scheduled topics are charts, compass, rules of the road—and safety, which will take two sessions.

An examination is given at the end of the course, and a certificate is awarded for a passing grade.

QUESTION: Where can I get information on where to go boating in California. I'd like to know about the lakes, rivers and bays, distances and road conditions and facilities.

T. J., San Rafael.

ANSWER: An updated edition called "Boating in California and Nevada," was recently published by the California State Automobile Assn. It holds a fund of valuable information for the person who enjoys trailing his boat and exploring new places. CSAA members are able to buy the copy for 50 cents. It you're not a member, it's still a tremendous value at $1.50. Buy one at the CSAA office, 565 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae, or send your check and they'll mail it to you.

Doyle is chairman of the tourney. Merchandise prize valued at more than $650 have been donated by business members of the club. Proceeds of the tourney will go to the fight against Cerebral Palsy. Larkspur Couple Fete 50 Years Sharing good and bad times together for half a century has led Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Brooks of 29 Willow Avenue, Larkspur, to their golden wedding.

They will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Friday at a reception at the home of a son, Lionel Gordon Brooks, in San Jose.

"We've been sharing together in everything," said Mrs. Brooks. "We've been through hard times."

She recalled shortly after they were married, when she was 17 and they were in Canada during a depression. "It was so cold we used to look for old auto tires to burn," she said.

Mrs. Brooks, a native of Scotland, moved to England at an early age and became acquainted with her husband because their families were friends.

After he had taken a vacation trip to Canada, he returned to London, married her and took her immediately to Canada. They settled in Winnipeg, Manitoba, where they lived for 34 years. Brooks worked for the Royal Bank of Canada and then independently as an accountant.

The Brookses came to California in 1947 and have been residents of Larkspur for 15 years.

Since moving to Marin County, Brooks has been in the retail business and now heads the shoe department at Mayer's Ltd. department store in Mill Valley.

Explaining the switch of trades, he said he learned about leather from an uncle in England who was a tanner, and worked part-time in the retail shoe business in Canada.

The Brookses have two sons, Robert Clifford Brooks of Vista, San Diego County, and Lionel of San Jose, and four grandchildren.

Mrs. Brooks said her relaxation time is spent thinking of the grandchildren and reading. Brooks enjoys following baseball, she said.

Three Plays Due At Tam Valley Club

Three one-act plays are scheduled to be given by the Tamalpais Valley Players for three weekends beginning Friday, and they may be the last plays produced in the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club.

The reason, explains Don Cantin, Players publicity chairman, is that the clubhouse is tentatively slated to be the first building razed for the proposed Coyote Creek flood control project. "The creek runs right under the clubhouse," said Cantin.

The plays are "Marriage Proposal," a comedy by Anton Chekhov, directed by Esther Allen; "Hello Out There" by William Saroyan, directed by Margaret Kelly, and "Ways and Means" by Noel Coward, directed by Jack Adams and Benita Truman.

Tickets may be reserved by calling J. R. Adams or Cantin, both of Mill Valley. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. The plays will be given also Friday and Saturday, as well as Oct. 18, 19, 25 and 26.

Who Will Pay The Tab For Beverly Hills Road?

BEVERLY HILLS (AP) — The good burghers of Beverly Hills have just about resigned themselves to the inevitability of a freeway intruding upon their exclusive domain—but if they have their way it'll be mighty hard to find.

They want it to go underground, with no access or exit within the city limits.

A standing room only crowd of 900, plus another 150 clustered outside gathered at a school Tuesday night to hear the latest word on their battle to keep bulldozers away from their doors.

The meeting, called by the City Council, heard nearly a dozen speakers but none offered hope that "progress" could be halted.

The concensus was that the Beverly Hills section of the freeway, which would like the already established Hollywood and San Diego Freeways, should begin at Doheny Drive and Santa Monica Boulevard and parallel the latter to the San Diego Freeway.

But the big question, unresolved, is who would pay the extra cost of putting the freeway at the bottom of a ditch, then roofing the ditch over? The taxpayers of all California? Or the taxpayers of Beverly Hills alone?

The Beverly Hills folks want it covered so 1. They can't see it and 2. They can't hear traffic noises.

Brown Elevates Judge To Superior Court

Held To Answer For Embezzling

Jose Chaco, 22, was held to answer in Marin County Superior Court on a charge of embezzling funds from Vic Tanny's gym in San Rafael during the eight months he worked there.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson bound Chaco over after a preliminary hearing yesterday in Marin Municipal Court. Chaco was arrested in Yuba City and booked in Marin County Jail Aug. 30, after a complaint was filed by Darryl W. Branstrom of San Francisco, district manager for Tanny, in March.

Brenstrom said Chaco accepted payments for memberships but then pocketed the funds. Chaco is free on $4,725 bail.

THE HERITAGE of service dating back a hundred years is brought to mind as volunteer leaders for the Marin United Crusade residential campaign which opens Wednesday are shown pictures of pioneer women leaders. From left are Mesdames Ivan Cousins Jr., vice-chairman of Sausalito area; P. G. Cochrane, co-chairman for San Anselmo; William R. Eastman Jr. of San Rafael and Arthur G. Collbran of Belvedere, division vice-chairmen.

Service Stressed For Crusade Volunteers

Today's woman volunteer has a heritage of service that goes back a hundred years or more . . .

This thought was interjected inito the discussiions at a meeting of volunteer leaders in the United Crusade as they made plans for the county-wide residential drive on Wednesday.

"You and the women who will work with you are a modern composite of great American women of the past," the group was told by Mrs. Sally Barr of the San Francisco office of the United Bay Area Crusade.

MRS. BARR showed photographs and described the pioneer work of Florence Nightingale, Susan B. Anthony, Carrie Nation, Jane Addams, Evangeline Booth and Mary McLeod Bethune.

"The burning issues for which these women worked are now largely a part of yesterday," Mrs. Barr says. "In their place we have all the problems of a highly populated, mobile, complex society. Today's woman volunteer is knowledgeable about these problems and helps our voluntary agencies to cope with them by taking part in movements such as the United Crusade."

These voluntary agencies, Mrs. Barr adds, are "strictly American."

A CORPS OF 2,000 volunteers, mostly women, will take part in next week's residential drive. Residential division chairman is Mrs. Robert Kettenbach of Belvedere, with Mrs. William Eastman of San Rafael and Mrs. Arthur G. Collbran of Belvedere as vice-chairmen.

Area chairmen, many of whom represent United Crusade agencies, are Mrs. Lawrason Driscill, Novato; Mrs. C. MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

San Rafael Home Setting For Several Dinner Parties

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Harless (Buck and Margaret) of San Rafael have given several dinner parties for their long-time friends. The next one of these will be Oct. 19. Their annual party, to celebrate the birthdays of several friends and two wedding anniversaries, is generally held in December, but because of the hectic holiday season, Margaret told me, it will probably take place after the New Year. Birthdays celebrated will be those of Mrs. Leon (Nana) Smith, Floyd Gilman and Roderick Martinelli. The wedding anniversaries marked will be those of Buck and Margaret's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cozad (Gwen Harless) of Sacramento, who have two sons, and the hosts' son, Clinton Harless of Novato and his wife, who have two children.

And did you know there is a Derringer in the house? Margaret Harless, nee Derringer, is the great great granddaughter of DeWitt Derringer, a Philadelphian, who made the Derringer pistol and later the Derringer rifle. The United States bought two lots of the rifles during the Civil War. When you consider the great amount of money spent for defensive weapons today, it is interesting to note that Uncle Sam bought 200 rifles, in all, for the war between the states.

Margaret's brother, who carries on the family name of DeWitt Derringer, a mining engineer, and his wife live in Burma. DeWitt is on the United Nations staff.

MR. AND MRS. WAYNE SWIGART of Little Reed Park, Tiburon, who have three children, Anne, Jim and Bill, have bought a new home in Walnut Creek and will move there soon.

Mr. Swigart, president of the Reed Property Owners Assn. is with Standard Oil Company of California.

A MAN WAS WON BY Mrs. William L. Hildeburn Jr. of Kentfield. I hasten to amplify as it was a handyman Mrs. Hildeburn won at the San Francisco Symphony Foundation volunteers kickoff meeting for the membership drive held at the Presidio Junior High School Monday. Mrs. Hildeburn, who is in charge of the drive for the Kentfield area, will receive a day's work from the handyman.

MR. AND MRS. J. E. CHRISTIAN of Belveron Gardens, and their two daughters, Gayle, a student at Redwood High School, and Linda, who attends Del Mar School, will live in Okinawa.

Mr. Christian will be project manager for Alcan Construction Co. in Okinawa.

Mrs. Christian has been active in the Girl Scouts for many years, and served as a Grey Lady with the Red Cross.

THE SAN RAFAEL HOME of Mrs. John Pitcairn was the setting for the white elephant sale Tuesday night given by the Junior Alumnae of Sigma Kappa.

MANY FRIENDS from Marin will attend the wedding of Clement McCarthy and Meredith Kerrigan Saturday afternoon at St. Theresa's Church in Oakland. Clement is the son of Mrs. Harry Halverson, remembered in Marin as Mrs. Josephine McCarthy. Colonel and Mrs. Halverson now live in St. Helena. Clement is here from Detroit, where he does art advertising work. Meredith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Warren of Oakland. The reception, following the 2:30 ceremony, will be held in the Galleon in Alameda.

Fabrics Can Be Laundered After Dry-Cleaning

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fabrics can be laundered successfully after being dry-cleaned — if handled with a little extra patience, home economists advise.

As the residue of cleaning fluid combines with the first wash water, the suds will disappear. Repeat washes a second or even a third time in soap or detergent suds until all the dry-cleaning chemical has been washed away. Then make up still one more batch of suds and launder to remove the soil. Rinse and finish, as usual.

Still Teasing

NEW YORK (UPI)—The "teasing" comb, whose regularly irregular teeth were the basis of the bouffant, bee-hive, overteased styles for 1962, will be a prime implement throughout 1963.

Only 75 Days— Artificially Dyed Yule Tree Okayed

The United States Dept. of Agriculture has announced that artificially colored Christmas trees may be graded under U. S. standards for Christmas trees, as long as the trees retain their natural appearance.

USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service has instructed its inspectors to grade trees with artificial coloring, provided the colored trees cannot be readily detected when placed beside unpainted trees of the same species with good natural color.

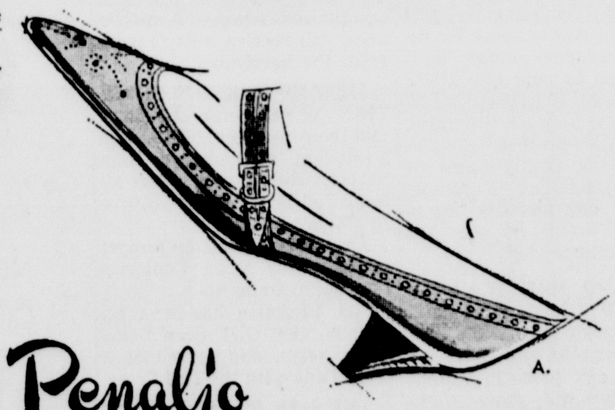

Trees will fail to meet the U. S. standards if their appearance is materially affected because of too heavy an application of coloring, or because the shade of green used is not typical of the species.

The U. S. Standards for Christmas trees are provided as a service to the industry, to aid in long-distance trading. Use of the grades is voluntary.

New Ukiah Warrants War Trial Is Denied

UKIAH (AP)—A new trial was denied yesterday for four persons convicted of obstructing justice with unlawful arrest warrants.

Superior Judge Folger Emerson then passed the following sentences:

Robert Morton, a former sheriff's deputy—one year in the county jail, and five years' probation, in lieu of a state prison sentence.

Justice Maurice W. Tindall of the Anderson Judicial District—a $4,000 fine and five years' probation.

Justice Glenn W. Evans of the Round Valley Judicial District—$2,000 fine and five years' probation.

Mrs. Shon Lee Salisbury of Ukiah—30 days in the Mendocino County jail.

The case began months ago when Morton sought a warrant against Salisbury, accused of beating his wife. The district attorney's office said it appeared the husband had suffered the worst, and the warrant war was on.

The four defendants had petitioned for a new trial, contending six jurors were guilty of misconduct because they "spoke maliciously" of a fifth person involved in the warrant obstruction.

They also claimed a seventh juror misconducted himself in not reporting he'd been investigated for a narcotics violation.

Stepfathers Not Legally Bound

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A stepfather is not legally obligated to support a child of his wife's previous marriage, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk ruled yesterday.

Dr. Malcolm H. Merrill, state health director, asked for the opinion.

Mosk held that a child's eligibility for treatment under the state crippled children's services program depends on the financial status of the child's mother and natural father.

No part of the stepfather's income is subject to his stepchild's support, he said.

Marin, Sonoma To Build Span

Marin and Sonoma counties are about to collaborate on a long-discussed project of building a new bridge over San Antonio Creek where it forms a boundary, as result of action taken by Marin County supervisors Tuesday.

They learned that bids for the project have been opened by the Sonoma road commissioner and agreed to accept the low bid of $115,273.35 submitted by Reichhold and Jurkovich of San Pablo. This was $1,400 under the engineer's estimate.

Marin will pay something more than half, estimated at around $72,000, since its share will include .36 of a mile of road eliminating a present bad curve.

A three-span reinforced concrete bridge with overall length of 102 feet is to be constructed. Completion is to be within six months of the time the work is started.

Larkspur Meeting

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Supervisors Should Up-Date Time-Wa sting Procedures

A recent proposal for efforts toward greater efficiency in operations of our Marin County Board of Supervisors drew some queer reactions.

Chairman Bill Fusselman, though assuring freshman Byron Leydecker (author of the idea of overhauling agenda and other procedures) that there has been vast progress with himself responsible for an imposing lot of it, recalled that county-grand-jury-before-last "wanted us to spend more time rather than less."

If the amount of time spent in meetings is a measure of what the taxpayers want, (a) why should there have been any past efforts to tighten procedure? and (b) why did Fusselman shut off inquiry into facts, and contributions from the general public, in that recent bulling-through of a costly and apparently defective employees' retirement plan?

Time certainly seemed to be pressing at that hour though it was morning. But more time, and more money, will before long be devoted to doing something additional for employees already retired who don't benefit a nickle by the new plan. Cost added on cost.

But reverting to that matter of supervisorial time, we'll quote one comment we have heard: "If the supervisors are going to get $800 rather than $500 a month, seems as though they could put in more time rather than less."

To both those comments the answer is obvious. What we need is perhaps more time spent on supervisors' work over all, but less time wasted. More time on fact-analysis and policy decisions, less on routine.

Undoubtedly Fusselman is right, that things were done worse in the past. Such things as reading aloud the minutes of past meetings is as obsolete as a lot of present nonsensical readings-aloud which Leydecker lists (in part) in his draft proposal to be considered next Tuesday if there's a full board present. The fact that lack of business gave a record short day this week is immaterial though it will be brought up.

There's no reason but sheer laziness for any supervisor to fail to study at home beforehand the basic material regularly provided in advance by the clerk (TV bears on this too.)

The idea of preliminary screening by one supervisor, the county clerk and the administrator is just common sense and should result in immediate rather than delayed references or other routine actions without taking up time during the weekly meetings notoriously ill-attended because mostly boresome.

Appropriate advance spade-work, including groupings of related items and provision for board action without lengthy readings, could do a great deal to lessen the tedium of meetings and—more important—keep the supervisors themselves bright-eyed and bushy-tailed for decisions.

It is similarly axiomatic that the board should delegate authority for a lot of routine chores. That is part of the proper function of an administrator. It is undignified and a betrayal of inner misgivings when any supervisor grabs at every scrap of authority in sight.

Delegation is not a surrender of authority but a proper recognition that the supervisors ought to concern themselves with basic issues rather than with sweeping the floor.

Mysterious Mr. Average Marinite

The usual and ever-gratifying state report about how Marin County citizens are the richest in California sort of reminds us of Orwell's "Animal Farm."

According to this book, all the animals at the farm were equal except that some were more equal than others.

So in Marin County. The average adjusted gross income was $10,398, according to figures compiled with no doubt almost painful accuracy by the State Franchise Tax Board, except that we don't seem to be acquainted with many people of average income.

Can it be that Mr. Average Marinite is The Man Nobody Knows?

AGAINST RACE DISCRIMINATION

U.N. Commission Is Divided By Deep-Rooted Prejudice

By IVAN ZVERINA

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—Away from the glare and glamor of policy statements in the General Assembly, a U.N. committee has been hammering away at a document which may rank in importance next to the Human Rights Declaration of 15 years ago.

The draft "Declaration On the Elimination Of All Forms Of Racial Discrimination," by the U. N. Human Rights Commission, has produced a strangely stubborn debate over the past two weeks in the Third (Social, Humanitarian and Cultural) Committee where cold-war politics and colonialism have seldom been injected in the past.

Approval of the document may come soon although one delegate commented on the committee's work so far: "They find it more difficult to agree on how to condemn racial discrimination that the big powers have on banning nuclear weapons from space."

AN INDICATION of how strongly some countries feel on the declaration is that more than 50 amendments to the draft have been submitted so far.

The draft condemns and urges the elimination of racial discrimination "in all its forms and manifestations" and contains a paragraph dealing specifically with apartheid in South Africa.

Sponsors of many amendments feel, however, that stronger language is called for. Some want the document to fit more specific situations, such as neo-fascism, as suggested by Russia.

Others feel condemnation is not enough and demand inclusion of punishment under criminal law for certain aspects of discrimination.

APPEALS from the floor of the committee, even from the chair occupied by frequently harrassed Humberto Diaz Casanueva of Chile, to withdraw at least some of the amendments have had little effect.

Caucuses were held by the African and Asian members, also by those from Latin America, but only a few amendments were actually withdrawn, while a few more were streamlined and merged.

Proposals to scrap all amendments and take a vote on the draft as it is now bogged down in the procedural machinery which requires that the amendments must be voted on first.

South Africa is not expected to vote for the document because of its mention of apartheid. In fact the South Africans have served notice that they do not want to take part in debating the document any more.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

No Cat Problem, Just People

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Recent mention has been made on your editorial page of the "cat problem" in Marin County. We suggest that it is not a "cat problem," but rather a people problem.

A case in point: Last week some children in Corte Madera's Madera Gardens saw a man in a sports car driving along Mohawk Avenue, stopping from time to time to throw out a kitten.

At least two kittens, around nine weeks old, were thus abandoned in the night. One was duly deposited with us by a neighbor who thought it might have been lost from our house.

One presumes that the person who disposed of an unwanted litter in such a cruel fashion acted more from stupidity than malice (he at least abandoned his kittens in a residential area). However, there are these factors to be considered:

1. A tiny kitten lost and bewildered in a strange neighborhood is in great danger from cars and dogs, and is lucky if it is killed outright rather than suffering a lingering death of pain. It is also prey to feline enteritis, of which there has recently been somewhat of an outbreak in Marin, and could pass this infection on to pet cats of the neighborhood.

2. It is an imposition on the neighborhood residents to force them to redispose of the kittens.

3. The Marin County Humane Society maintains facilities to dispose of unwanted animals. It is far better equipped to find homes for such animals, and in event homes cannot be found, is able to put the animals to a merciful, painless death.

4. Under recently enacted legislation, it is now a misdemeanor under the California Penal Code to abandon a domesticated cat or dog.

5. Anyone who has a female cat and who does not want kittens has a simple and reasonable alternative to sneaking through the night to abandon kittens — HAVE the FEMALE SPAYED.

We have spoken of cats and kittens because they were the cause of this letter, but, of course, the facts also apply to dogs and puppies.

Animals do not cause problems — people cause animal problems.

What Constitutes 'Catholic View'?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The letter from a Catholic giving her reasons why she would vote against the school bond issue is not representative of the views of the Catholic community, and is in direct opposition to the recommendations of the Catholic clergy.

Msgr. McAllister's monthly bulletin called the school bond issue to the attention of the laity. It reads: "The education of youth is of concern to all of us. Please be sure to vote — — — ." Sometimes there is a great difference between "a Catholic view" and the views of individuals who are Catholics.

To vote against a good proposition in order to protest a wrong in another matter is to reject one's social responsibilities.

The ends that my sister-in-Christ desires can come as the result of an improvement in understanding and goodwill. This good-will will be subverted by any attempts to black-jack the community into submission.

While together we will pray "How long, O Lord, how long . . . " we must be the responsible citizens which we expect our children to become. Anything less is a failure to our fellow man and a rejection of the Church's teachings.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

An intellectual young lady, intent upon getting a secretarial job with a famous corporation, secured an interview with one of its vice-presidents, but spoiled it all by being over-eager, and rattling on about her credentials without giving him an opportunity to open his mouth. She ended finally by declaring, "Incidentally, I can do 150 words a minute." The V.P. told her, "You underestimate yourself, young lady. I clocked you at 300."

A candidate for a high state office was accused by his opponent of merely posing as a "son of very poor parents." "As a matter of fact," thundered the opponent, "my adversary comes from the richest family in his county." The candidate answered calmly, "It's quite true I wasn't born in a log cabin. But we moved to one as soon as we could afford it."

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Tiburon's chamber of commerce said it still opposed a federal plan to put the Tiburon-Belvedere post office under Mill Valley jurisdiction, but would cooperate in any move for a combined but independent post office.

Marin County officially removed its opposition to Navy requests for practice minelaying from airplanes in Drake's Bay, following supervisors' protest which they reluctantly reversed under Washington pressure.

20 YEARS AGO

Sausalito was hit by an epidemic of mumps.

Survey of land use in the Inverness area was nearing completion, according to Planning Technician Mary Gilkey. This was to lead to comprehensive new zoning. Alto and Tiburon were next due for survey.

Members of the California Highway Patrol joined in Marin County's search for scrap metal, promising to expedite sale of junky cars on which there was registration lien.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Macmillan Taking Hard Knocks But Can Pick His Exit

LONDON—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, who has just moved back to a refurbished 10 Downing Street — for a while at least—is being buffeted from all directions.

Day after day Mr. Macmillan is being hit by the confident and cocky Labor party leader, Harold Wilson, who, because he is on the attack, is getting much the better of it in the headlines.

He is being bruised by most of the press, including the pro-Conservative papers, which feature embarrassing phrases from the Denning Report on the Profumo scandal.

He is being nagged and pushed to the brink of resignation by back-bench Tories who feel that without new leadership and a younger look they will have no chance of winning next year's election.

AND ON TOP of it all, the latest British Gallup poll gives the Labor party a commanding lead of 13.5 per cent over the Conservatives —if the voting were held in the immediate future.

The British election, of course, will not be held in the immediate future. It will only be held at the moment Mr. Macmillan deems most propitious for the Conservative party during the next 12 months — either in the late spring or next September.

This gives Mr. Macmillan a breather to decide whether or not he will resign the Prime Ministership so that the Conservatives may put in a substantially fresh team before going to the country.

THE PRESSURE is on. The Denning Report, which affirmed Mr. Macmillan's "integrity" and questioned his handling of the Profumo crisis, brought down a shower of condemnatory headlines.

The pro-Conservative Daily Telegraph, as near to being the official Tory organ as there is in London, announced that the "Premier 'Failed.'" Other headlines were in the same vein: "Mac Did Not Succeed," "Mac Blamed," "Mac In Dock."

The Telegraph, normally the Conservative government's staunchest supporter, seems to be leading its own crusade to get Mr. Macmillan out. Its top headline on the Prime Minister's post-Denning broadcast defending his conduct in the Profumo matter, read meaningfully: "Is It Best I Go? Asks Premier." And the next day it kept it up by reporting that "MP's fear Mr. Macmillan may leave it too late."

MR. MACMILLAN'S own position is that he will not be pushed out by the Profumo scandal. He will succeed in this. He has the loyal backing of his cabinet ministers who will leave the decision wholly to him.

And he has the evidence of the public opinion polls which, to the surprise of many, show that the Labor party's peak of popular support in recent months came just before the Profumo thing broke and that its percentage of voter support today — after Profumo and Christine Keeler have been poisoning the air, since last June — is five percentage points lower than it was the week before Profumo resigned.

This means that Mr. Macmillan can, with good grace, retire for political reasons other than the Profumo affair which he has survived through his own "unflappable" calm.

ON JAN. 10, NEXT, Mr. Macmillan will have been Prime Minister seven years. On Feb. 10, he will be 70 years old. The Conservatives have now been in office continuously for 12 years and quite evidently there is a mood in the electorate that it's time for a change. This is why the Prime Minister tends towards stepping down so that the Conservative party can give the country a change without itself being thrown out.

The new Labor party leader, Mr. Wilson, is tearing into the government with hammer and epithet. He is not just demanding Macmillan's head: he is calling for what he terms a "de-Stalinization" of the whole cabinet.

The probable successor to Macmillan would be one of these three: Reginald Maudling, Chancellor of the Exchequer, R. A. Butler, Deputy Prime Minister, or Edward Heath, Lord Privy Seal.

Who'll win next year? All the odds are on Labor. But some are hedging on their bets, because the British economy and rate of growth are steadily looking up.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Robert Kennedy Rules O.K. On Russia Wheat Credit

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy has stuck a big oar into the politically explosive wheat sale to Russia.

He has ruled that private grain dealers, now negotiating a $200 million wheat sale, may extend credit to Russia without violating the Johnson Act of 1934.

This little - known law, as amended in 1945, prohibits U. S. citizens from making loans of any kind to any government or agency which is in default on its obligations to the U. S.

Until the attorney general made his unannounced ruling, President Kennedy had followed the "hard line" position of both the Eisenhower and Truman Administrations that the Johnson Act barred any type of credit to Russia.

THE NEW RULING, which has tremendous economic and political implications, was revealed to a joint meeting of the Senate Agriculture and Foreign Relations Committees by Undersecretary of State George Ball.

In testifying in support of the sale of wheat to Russia, Ball startled the senators by flatly contending, "There are no legal bars against selling the grain to Russia for either gold or credit."

"Doesn't the Johnson Act bar the granting of credit to the Soviet Union?" inquired Sen. J. Allen Ellender, chairman of the Agriculture Committee. "Whenever this question was raised in the past, the Justice Department has taken the position that no credit can be given the Russians."

"THAT IS NOT the position of the present attorney general," replied Ball. "He has just given an opinion to the president that the Johnson Act bars only loans, not credits. It is his interpretation that wheat can be sold to Russia on a delayed payment plan with credit extending over a number of months."

"I am sure that interpretation doesn't square with Congress' intent in passing that law," challenged Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper, (R-Ia.) "Any relaxation of this act in favor of Soviet credits should be brought before Congress."

"It is the attorney general's position that the president has full power to make a determination on the sale and does not need additional authority from Congress," declared Ball.

"THAT MAY BE the attorney general's position," said Senator Karl Mundt, (R-S.D.), a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, "but it may not be the right one. Before the president makes his decision to approve any export licenses for wheat shipments to Russia, he should bring the whole matter formally before Congress. There should be full and frank debate, so that the public will know what is going on."

Another flurry of questions by the senators greeted Agriculture Sec. Orville Freeman when he stated that the administration didn't have full details of the Soviet offer to buy wheat since the government wasn't directly involved in the negotiations.

"Who are the persons involved in these negotiations with the Russians?" demanded Senator Hickenlooper. "We ought to know who is dealing with them."

Do You Believe In Signs? Sometimes One Wonders . . .

THE LARKSPUR City Council was close to ecstasy last week.

It encountered several side issues in arguing over a sign. It used what for Larkspur was admirable restraint.

Voluble as it was, it adjourned just before midnight, when it might have stayed in session hours longer.

A sign firm representative said the law enforced by the Division of Highways doesn't limit sizes or brightness of signs along landscaped highways but only says products advertised must be manufactured or warehoused at the site.

CITY MGR. Ronald E. Piper was asked to check this but the council stuck to the main question: Whether to back the planning commission and order removal of a sign three times as large as permitted by the city sign ordinance.

The sign firm man said his people had to keep up on 72 codes in 72 cities. No councilman pursued this. The council did sit out on a limb for a while, wondering who would remove the sign if the council so ordered.

Developer Niels Schultz Jr. said, "We own the land but the sign structure is owned by a former tenant, the Texas Co., which is subleasing the property to the current tenant."

Schultz added: "We would defer to Texaco. We don't think it is up to us to take the sign down. We're entirely on the sidelines."

DISCUSSION joined by City Atty. Samuel W. Gardiner developed that the city shouldn't bother over who should take it down. If the city wanted it removed someone would have to comply or legal steps could be taken.

With so many loose ends, I was pleasantly surprised that the council wrapped up the matter in about 55 minutes with a 3-2 vote backing up the planning commission and ordering removal of the sign along Highway 101.

Councilman Vaughn Marker did give a brief address to explain his "yes" vote on Councilman Robert J. Smith's motion. He said the ordinance is explicit and it appeared agents of the sign firm did not make proper effort to comply with it.

COUNCILMAN James J. Lienkaemper also spoke. He said he was "trapped" into voting "no" though he favored the ordinance and the action of the planning commission in upholding it but he wanted to help a new business.

After the meeting an observer said if Larkspur meetings are long at least discussions are held during public meetings, a good point.

Meanwhile the question of what future meetings will discuss appears to be building pressure like an overloaded boiler. Councilmen Smith and Lienkaemper got an OK in August to compile a list of unfinished items. This list gets longer.

As a result city fathers lately have been having trouble deciding on agenda items.

DISCUSSIONS over discussion topics depress me. I wish more citizens attended the meetings; maybe they would become shorter. Some Larkspur council sessions remind one of the chaos of courtroom scenes in Thorne Smith novels.

Corte Madera account clerk Virginia Carson is delighted with the town's tractor and back hoe, delivered last week, "because it looks like a grasshopper."

All the clerks in this town are delightful. I have affection for the people in Larkspur City Hall, too.

Editors' comment on the Alabama racial integration scene:

SAN JOSE NEWS: His hopeless, grandstand action appeals to the most base of the instincts of the racists. For moderate Alabamans, George C. Wallace must be a bitter pill.

SACRAMENTO BEE: Pres. John F. Kennedy exhausted every residue of decency, both public and private.

SAN JOSE MERCURY: In a strange and frenzied way, Gov. George Wallace of Alabama is helping further the cause of equal rights in the South.

The hypocrisy . . . is beginning to offend the white Southerner who does not view racial integration with enthusiasm but who possesses a basic decency and respect for the law. The politics of hatred is losing its appeal.

MEMORIES DATE YOU

Remember Your Wish For Grandpa's Watch?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It is hard to tell the age of men and women today.

There is a conspiracy to stay young.

Gray hair is tinted another color, cosmetics give a youthful complexion, diets keep figures trim, and—for those who can afford it — plastic surgeons remove tattletale wrinkles.

But no matter how skillfully you camouflage your exterior, you have a secret betrayed within.

THAT IS your memory. And it will quickly give away your real age anytime you succumb to the temptation of reminiscing out loud.

Certainly you're no longer a spring chicken if you can remember when—

THERE WERE two things you could be sure of: 1—Nobody would ever climb Mt. Everest, and 2 — no man would ever run a four-minute mile.

Girls wore dresses so short you could see their rolled stockings on a breezy day.

A pet dog ate the scraps from the family table, and didn't require a special menu of its own.

Most workmen wore white shirts only on Saturday nights and Sundays.

YOUNG LADIES used to sit in the backyard with a towel wrapped around their necks and let the hot sun dry their long hair.

Father always wore earmuffs to work on a cold day.

When anyone was sick in the house, neighbor ladies always baked fresh bread and sent it over.

A lad's knowledge that his grandpa was old and might die at any time was compensated for by the hope that he might get the old man's watch.

CHILDREN studied reading, writing and arithmetic in school—instead of social adjustment and group adaptability.

It was the height of romantic ecstasy to let your foot accidentally touch your girl's foot as you both pumped the player piano in the living room.

Any town that didn't have at least two pool halls was really only a village.

HALF THE young sports in America were growing sideburns and slicking down their hair so they'd look more like Rudolph Valentino.

Remember?

If you do, don't admit it—or they'll think you're still mourning for William B. McKinley.

Improbable Break Certainly Not Impossible In Your Bridge Hand

We've been trying to get a bill through Congress to wipe out the difference between the improbable and the impossible, but you know what Congress is like.

We'll have to struggle along for another year or two with an occasional bad break in a key suit.

Imagine you're South. You take the ace of spades, cash the ace of hearts, and plan to reach dummy and discard a spade on the king of hearts.

DRAW TRUMPS

For this purpose you draw trumps with the ace, the queen and the jack. That draws all of the missing trumps and gives you a feeling of security.

Now you cash the king of hearts to get rid of a spade and lead the queen of diamonds to force out the ace.

Back comes a spade, and you must ruff with your last trump. What's more, all of your lovely aces have gone. You cannot lead to the jack of diamonds and then get back to your hand.

ONLY CHANCE

Your only chance is to lead the king of diamonds, overtaking dummy's jack. This will work out well if the diamonds break 3-2, as they should about two-thirds of the time.

You will then be able to capture all of the diamonds with the king and 10.

As it happens, the diamonds break 4-1. You cannot run the suit, and you wind up going down two. Get ready to send a letter to your senator.

PLAY BETTER

Don't be surprised if your senator tells you that you should have played the hand better. The correct line is to draw only two rounds of trumps before cashing the king of hearts and leading the queen of diamonds from dummy.

When a spade comes back, you ruff; but you still have a trump left in your hand. You can lead a diamond to dummy's jack and still get back with your high trump to draw West's last trump and run all of the diamonds.

Suppose that second diamond gets ruffed? That won't happen if the diamonds break 3-2. player with one diamond started with only two trumps. This It also won't happen if the player with one diamond started with only two trumps. This is the extra possibility that you get as a free bonus by drawing only two rounds of trumps.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Oct. 10, the 283rd day of 1963 with 82 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning stars are Mercury and Jupiter. The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1845 ,the U. S. Naval Academy was formally opened at Fort Severn, Annapolis.

In 1913, President Woodrow Wilson pressed a button in Washington which caused the last remaining obstruction in the Panama Canal to be blown up.

In 1943, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was sworn in as president of China on the 32nd anniversary of the founding of the republic.

A thought for the day—English novelist Jane Austen said: "Those who do not complain are never pitied."

Compare the costs

vs.

I-J newspaper advertising

COST: $1,288.68

to send a 4c postcard to the Independent-Journal's 32,217 subscriber families

As an advertiser, it would cost you $1,288.68 to send a 4c postcard to the 32,217 Independent-Journal subscriber families in Marin. Cards, printing and addressing would cost you extra. Yet for just $76.50, you could run a 30" ad in the Independent-Journal. This is why more and more advertisers who want results at lowest advertising cost use the I-J on a consistent basis.

They know their message "gets home" in the I-J, because readers want and subscribe to it. In contrast, research shows that 53% of people throw direct mail away without reading it. A bare 20% read direct mail with interest. Unasked for, uninvited, direct mail goes mostly un-read. Again this brings up the cost.

COST: $76.50

to run a 30" ad, 3 times the size of a postcard, in the Independent-Journal

Your ads in the Independent-Journal are read, scrutinized, acted upon. Your product or service goes on actual shopping lists of the most-able-to-buy families in Marin. Your message gets to people, because people want to read it . . . in the I-J. Dollar for dollar, your advertising in the Independent-Journal produces more sales at lowest possible cost. You pay for results, not guesswork.

May we suggest you call in an Independent-Journal advertising representative? Let him show you how you can start your own advertising plan for more sales, more profits.

For the cost of one postcard mailing, you can buy a full advertising campaign in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL

Using the same figure, $1,288.68 (cost of mailing one 4c postcard to the Independent-Journal's 32,217 subscribers), here is what that same amount of money would buy on a regular schedule in the I-J:

$1,288.68 WILL BUY:

- 16–30" advertisements or one ad per week for 4 months in the I-J
- 25–20" advertisements or one ad per week for 6 months in the I-J
- 50–10" advertisements or one ad per week for 50 weeks in the year

So as to be conservative, we have used the maximum retail rate, or $2.55 per inch, as the basis of cost for the above newspaper schedules in the I-J.

What about the cost of circulars vs. advertising in the Independent-Journal?

The mailing cost alone for circulars again underscores the advertising economy of using the I-J. Even at the lowest bulk rate for circulars (2.625c per copy), postage charges to reach the I-J's 32,217 subscribers would amount to $793.20. In addition would be the considerable cost of paper, printing and addressing, amounting to hundreds of dollars at the very least. Place this against the impact of major space in the I-J, for less money, and you see why astute retail advertisers specify the Independent-Journal first in their advertising plans in Marin County. More impact, more believability, more sales, more profits . . . at lowest cost. And no waste!

Which Makes Dollars and Sense to You as an Advertiser?

- Your I-J newspaper audience subscribes to the newspaper, wants to read your advertising (for women, newspaper ads score highest readership of all features, next to news). Compare that with direct mail.
- Your message in the Independent-Journal reaches the most concentrated buying force in Marin County—32,217 families. Contrast that with direct mail which is not paid circulation, not invited into the home. Can "wastebasket" mail compete with solid readership?
- Your advertising gains character, carries far more weight with your audience when it's in the Independent-Journal. (Advertising doesn't work in a "vacuum", but in the warm, inviting climate of full readership. Compare that with direct mail).
- Over 71% of the newspaper audience reads the newspaper page by page, spend an average of 37 minutes reading it. The newspaper is part of the personal lives of its audience, day in, day out. Contrast that with direct mail—53% of which is thrown away, unread.
- In the I-J, your store, your business, gains "image," stature; your messages carry believability and impact which direct mail cannot deliver.
- You reach a solid, responsive audience at lowest cost-per-thousand circulation in the I-J—the only daily newspaper and the only advertising medium in Marin County with circulation verified by the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

State Might Get Rec Area In Land Swap

California's immense outdoor clan, virtually starving for fresh areas in which to flip a fly or stalk a buck, may soon get a crack at some of the choicest outdoor country in the state.

The U.S. Forestry Service presently is negotiating with the Hearst Corp. in an effort to acquire some 30,000 acres in the McCloud River area of Shasta and Siskiyou counties Payment would be made by exchanging other government land of equal value.

Basic reason behind the proposed trade is to consolidate government holdings in the Shasta National Forest. At the present time, because of subsidies granted railroads nearly 100 years ago, much of our national forest land has a checkerboard pattern, with alternate sections belonging to the government and private interests.

If the trade under discussion goes through, and both sides are optimistic, land valuations for tax purposes would balance out, the annual allowable cut of timber from national forest land would be unchanged and recreationists would gain several advantages including:

1. Approximately five miles of the famed McCloud River, heretofore closed, would be open to the public.

2. Some six miles of Lower Squaw Valley Creek would be fishable by the man in the street.

3. The forest service would build a complex of access roads, campsites and other facilities to allow maximum public usage.

Donhoff is master of ceremonies for the afternoon and Jerry Montizambert for the evening.

The 41 works of art will be displayed in the gallery area of the show Saturday and Sunday, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Houlgate Davenport of Mill Valley is winner of "best in show" with her water color "Middle Game." Miss Davenport is now working in graphics at the San Francisco Art Institute. She also won a $25 merchandise order from Dimitroff's Frame Shop for an oil, "Dark April."

Mary Stone of San Rafael will be presented with the $100 George Evans Memorial Award for an oil, "Ride," which the judges said best captures the spirit of Mill Valley.

The $25 Frank Howard Allen Award for best representational painting goes to Dr. Keith McNeer of Mill Valley for his oil, "The Unsung Messiah."

Other winners are Alice Todhunter of Mill Valley, the Mill Valley Furniture Award of $25 for an oil, "A Guest of Mount Tamalpais;" John Pearson of San Francisco, a $25 committee award for other than painting for his bronze sculpture, "'Om," and John Ihle of Mill Valley, a $25 committee award for his etching, "Incident at Black Rock."

Both juried and non-juried art will be shown, Mrs. Wright said, adding that there were 102 entrants in the festival of which 55 are from Mill Valley.

Judges of the juried art show are John Humphries, curator at San Francisco Museum of Art; Stephen De Staebler, instructor of sculpture, San Francisco Art Institute, and Wesley Chamberlin, instructor of art at San Francisco State College.

U.S. Auditors Charge Surplus Sent To Viet Nam Not Being Checked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government auditors charged yesterday that the United States has sent 50 million dollars worth of surplus off to Viet Nam in the past six years without any check on whether it arrived or how it was used.

The General Accounting Office (GAO) cited the case as a prime example of "inadequate controls" by the Agriculture Department over the "food for peace" program.

The GAO also complained that no check has been made of "numerous shipments" which have gone to Yugoslavia since 1960. The same also was reported in the case of millions of dollars worth of surplus food sent to Turkey and Colombia last year.

Without such checking, the GAO said, the United States has no way of knowing whether such food falls into the hands of "unfriendly nations."

The GAO, which acts as a congressional watchdog on government spending, made the comments in a report to the House and Senate. The report also was sent to President John F. Kennedy, Agricultural Secretary Orville L. Freeman and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

The agency said the situation existed despite a law which requires the administration to obtain commitments from foreign countries that will prevent the unauthorized resale or transshipment to other countries of surplus U. S. agricultural commodities.

The law also requires the administration to take steps to assure that such shipments do not result in increased availability of those or similar commodities to unfriendly nations.

"On the basis of our review," the GAO said, "we have concluded that the Department of Agriculture has not obtained sufficient information . . . nor has it had adequate procedures for ascertaining that surplus agriculture commodities . . . are received and used in authorized foreign countries and do not result in increased availability of the same or similar commodities to unfriendly nations."

The United States has signed sales agreements with 44 governments since the start of the "Food For Peace" program in 1954. More than 67 million metric tons of food have been sent overseas at a cost of about 9.5 billion dollars.

The GAO recommended that Freeman take "more aggressive action" to gather required reports from overseas on the arrival and use of the American surplus food.

During a spot-check on reports that had been submitted, the GAO found that about 44,000 metric tons of commodities reported as having been shipped to Egypt had not been reported as having arrived.

The GAO said the Agriculture Department was not aware of the discrepancy but said it would seek an explanation from the U. S. agricultural attache in Cairo.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Family Doctor Treats Alcoholism —But It Is Sometimes Tough Job

VAN DELLEN

Many alcoholics would take the pledge if they understood fully the reasons why they must stop drinking. Achieving abstinence is not easy but this is what the physician tries to encourage, provided he has the time and patience. Success will not follow threats and exaggerations and nothing is gained by trying to scare an old boozer by telling him that his liver is getting hard (cirrhosis).

Treating an alcoholic is a difficult chore and many physicians throw up their hands in disgust, especially when the goal is in sight and the patient suddenly goes on a bender for no apparent reason. This is to be expected, according to Dr. Robert A. Moore, because alcohol is the only thing of importance left to the drinker.

THE POSSIBILITY of being cured means the loss of his best pal—old John Barleycorn. In addition, many alcoholics are irresponsible and immature emotionally. They are dedicated to their own pleasure and heedless of the pain inflicted on others.

The alcoholic requires the utmost kindness, sympathetic indulgence, and understanding. Many physicians do not have the temperament or inclination to spend the hours required talking and counseling these men and women. These patients are unhappy and feel isolated and depressed.

The home situation must be fully understood because the alcoholic is the family's major problem. All too often its members promote continued drinking by taking an unrealistic attitude or refusing to recognize that the drinker is sick.

WHO SHOULD take care of the alcoholics? Alcoholics Anonymous is a help but not all drinkers benefit from this spiritual approach. The family physician can do the job and, in many communities, work with a publicly supported clinic or with a psychiatrist to bring the illness under control. Psychiatric care is needed when the alcoholic becomes psychotic or when severe emotional upsets bring on binges.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

INFECTED PANCREAS

R. M. writes: Can anything besides alcoholic beverages cause pancreatitis?

REPLY

Yes. Many victims are alcoholics but many more have gall bladder disease, which plays a more logical role. The pancreatic fluid and bile drain into the intestine through a common duct. This connection allows bacteria from the infected gall bladder to travel into the pancreas and induce infection.

SKIN CANCER

L. L. writes: What causes skin cancer on the face, other than too much sun?

REPLY

Other possible causes include irritation from tars, chemicals, and friction. The chimney sweeps of old London, for example, developed malignancies traced to this sort of irritation. But in most instances the cause of skin cancer is not known.

FINGER BITING

C. G. writes: Could you get cancer from biting the skin around the nails?

REPLY

Probably not, but human bites may be followed by infections that can be serious.

Clocks Going Back As Earth Slows Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The earth is slowing down fast.

So fast, in fact, that the world's finest timekeepers are going to have to set the hands of their clocks back a tenth of a second.

Announcement of the clock adjustment was made jointly yesterday by the National Bureau of Standards and the Naval Observatory.

Eight other nations with whom the United States has an agreement on what time it is will make the same adjustment. The effective moment is "zero hours universal time 1 November, 1963," or 7 p.m. (EDT) Oct. 31.

The whirling globe, for reasons unknown, speeds up or slows down its rotational rate from time to time. The period of rotation, as determined by astronomical observations, can be accurately clocked by atomic time pieces first developed in 1955.

Both the Navy and the bureau use atomic clocks as master controls for the time standards they broadcast periodically for the benefit of scientists and navigators all over the world.

The bureau broadcasts these signals, by which you can accurately set your watch or chronometer, from three widely separated stations, the Navy from five.

Atomic clocks, which get their accuracy from the unvarying vibration of cesium and other atoms, aren't affected by whatever it is that changes the earth's speed of rotation.

So atomic time gets out of step with earth time. Since man and all his works are governed by earth time and the day-night rhythm imposed by the globe's rotation, it becomes necessary now and then to change the hands on the atomic clocks to make them conform.

Records at the Naval Observatory show that the earth clock, because of a slowdown in the time of rotation, has lost a tenth of a second in the past year and a half.

Ordinarily, the timekeepers would wait until the first of the year to put the hands back. But the earth's deceleration increased so sharply in the past couple of months that it was decided to make the adjustment a couple of months early.

Last month the earth clock lost 25 thousandths of a second, compared with a loss of about 10 thousandths of a second last July. To Navy and bureau timekeepers, this change in the speed of rotation is deceleration "at a very rapid rate."

It has been only since development of the first atomic clock that scientists have been able to gauge accurately the number of hours, minutes, seconds, and fractions thereof used up in one turn of the earth on its axis.

Astronomers have known since around 1870 that the rotational period undergoes irregular changes. According to the atomic clock, the speed of rotation slowed down between June, 1955, and September, 1957.

Then acceleration set in between September, 1957, and April, 1962. Since then the earth has been slowing down again. There has, apparently, been a net loss. According to Dr. William Markowitz of the Naval Observatory, the earth clock has lost about 35 seconds in the past 63 years.

Although the earth is slowing down at the moment, it can be expected to reverse speeds and start accelerating some day. On the basis of atomic clock measurements since 1955, the average period in which the rotational speed is picking up or falling off is around five years.

No satisfactory theory has yet been developed to explain these vagaries of the earth's whirlygig. It has been suggested that rotation of the earth's presumably liquid core has something to do with it. Another notion is that the rotational period is determined by the rise and fall of continents.

As in the case of many another fact of life, however, all the scientists can say now is: "Cause unknown."

State Highway Taxes Go Up By 7.6 Per Cent

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State Controller Alan Cranston reports revenues from state highway taxes were up 7.6 per cent in September over the same month a year ago.

The state, cities and counties split 35.6 million dollars with nearly 24 million going to the state, 8.5 million to the counties and 3.2 million to the cities.

The six-cent-per-gallon gasoline tax brought in 31.3 million dollars. The rest came from diesel and truck taxes.

The gasoline tax went up to 7 cents a gallon Oct. 1.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Marin Is Moving To Marin —A First For Marin County

With all the businesses and associations in the county that begin with the name "Marin" (and there are a lot of them), apparently there has not been a single individual with that surname listed here for several years. But now we have one—or almost.

He is Paul J. Marin, who recently moved with his family to Lagoon Road in Belvedere from San Francisco, where he is associated with Charles B. Farrow, Inc., electrical contractors. He is also a director of the newly incorporated Tiburon Inn Corp. of Louis O. Britt and Associates.

The family name is actually Marincich, but he prefers the shortened version for business use.

In San Francisco where it doesn't count, there are 13 Marin surname listings

CONGRATULATIONS to Pacific Coast Title Co. on occupying its new office building at Mission Avenue and Nye Street, San Rafael—and to all who had a hand in the construction. It's in keeping with the current trend to make Marin business as attractive as the county's homes.

That exterior finish is stucco textured with multi-colored pebbles to resemble aggregate. A redwood solar screen furnishes sun control. Katy and Paul Steinmetz are responsible for the landscaping.

AND NOW that Pacific Coast has moved out of the Marin County Savings and Loan building, the latter firm will set about adapting the space for "Eddie," the computer who is temporarily stowed in the local National Cash Register offices.

MRS. ESTHER M. DEARTH and Mrs. Muriel Brown of Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. left Tuesday for San Diego to attend the ninth Western Regional Conference of Savings and Loan Controllers. Mrs. Brown is president of the local Redwood Empire chapter and Mrs. Dearth is past president of the Golden Gate chapter and past district governor.

The meeting will not be without one pang of disappointment to mar the trip for the two — particularly for Mrs. Dearth, who heads the Marin Visitors Bureau.

Last year the Redwood savings and loan chapter bid for the 1964 conference—and got it. But because contemplated increased motel facilities have failed to materialize for some 250 delegates, it had to withdraw and ask Salt Lake City to act as host.

The 1965 conference goes to Palm Springs, but the 1966 affair is up for bid this year. However, it's not likely Mesdames Dearth and Brown will take another chance on another letdown.

Gets Doctor's Degree

David N. Freeman, son of Dr. and Mrs. Norman E. Freeman of 263 Molino Avenue, Mill Valley, has received a doctor's degree from Cornell University. He acquired his master of science degree from Cornell in 1958.

One out of every six turkeys produced in the United States is grown in California.

Airman Hurt As Auto Overturns

S/Sgt. James A. Rast of the 78th Transportation Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base was in good condition today in Letterman General Hospital, San Francisco, with injuries suffered in an automobile accident Monday night near Sonoma.

Rast, who lives at 1155 Dixon in Rafael Village, Novato, lost control of his car which overturned at an intersection five miles south of Sonoma, according to the California Highway Patrol.

He suffered multiple cuts, bruises and abrasions on his face, and a compound fracture of his right arm, the hospital reported.

Bon Air Buildings Gain Approval

Architectural supervision for expansion of two buildings in the Bon Air Shopping Center, was granted developer Niels Schultz Jr. Tuesday night over a strong protest by chairman David F. Scott of the Larkspur planning commission.

Scott dissented from the 4-1 approval because of the location of a new exit to Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The exit will be moved to provide more parking spaces.

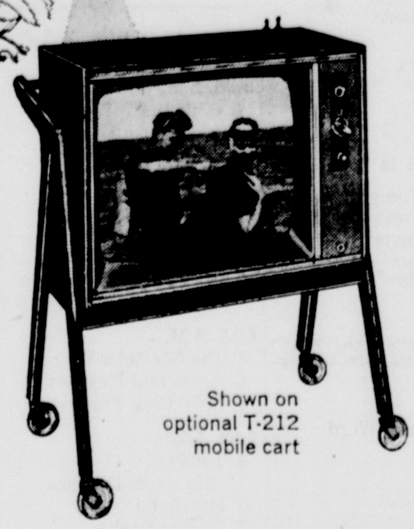

"In my opinion probably a majority of the traffic entering Sir Francis Drake will move from a standing stop across two lanes of 45-mile-an-hour traffic in a maximum distance of 600 feet," said Scott.
